

GENERAL VILLA OCCUPIES OJINAGA; THE FEDERAL TROOPS EVACUATING AFTER ONLY A FEW HOURS FIGHTING

ALL DEFEATED SOLDIERS AND OFFICERS WHO COULD DO SO, SCRAMBLED TO AMERICAN SIDE

Seeing That Assault Was to Be Nothing Short of a Massacre,
Generals Castro and Mercado Give Order to Evacuate—Orozco and Salazar With 700 Men Are Thought to Have Gained the Interior—Rebels Celebrate Victory.

PRESIDIO, Texas, Jan. 10.—General Villa, erstwhile bandit and now ranking general in the constitutionalist's army, took possession of Ojinaga at ten o'clock tonight after five hours of terrific fighting. The victory was a rout for the Huerta forces under General Salvador Mercado, who fled in all directions in great disorder together with the other eight federal generals. A large number are said to have crossed the Rio Grande into American territory where the fifteenth cavalry, commanded by Major McNamee is on the lookout for them.

Rebels Celebrate Victory.
At mid-night the rebels occupying Ojinaga were making merry. Camp fires were gleaming, battle grimed soldiers were cheering, improvised bands were playing. It was an occasion of great rejoicing.

Beginning an ordinary advance near sundown the rebels approached the village from three directions. General Villa, at the head of 1,000 fresh troops that had accompanied him from Chihuahua, moved forward from the south; other troops approached from the west and east.

Encountering the federal outposts at a point about four miles distant from the knob on which sets the quaint old town of Ojinaga, there ensued a hot engagement of short duration, during which fifty federal soldiers were captured. Several escaped by swimming the river to United States territory. Coming at length within easy range of the federal stronghold, the rebels opened their machine gun and rifle fire was opened by the advancing constitutionalists.

Fresh after a few days cessation of active hostilities the rebels fought gallantly. Opposed to them was a soldierly warrior by long hours of entrenchment digging and sentry duty and going on short rations. Almost out of ammunition, heart-sick and fear-filled, the Huerta forces were no match for the determined forces led by Villa and cheered by his presence on the field.

No Account of Casualties Possible.
For the few hours of the fighting tonight the firing was furious. No account of the casualties is possible. It is thought, however, that the death toll was heavy. Over the valley hung the moon, ghostly bright and wearing a veil of silver. At times it was all but obscured by the great clouds of dust and smoke of the artillery.

Wounded federals, women and children and many camp followers made their way down the hill to the river's brink and forded or swam the muddy stream to safety under the American flag. These were followed by many deserters from the ranks, whose guns were seized while they themselves were made prisoners.

Seeing that the fight would result in a massacre, Generals Mercado and Castro advised an evacuation of the stronghold on the hill. The rebels were upon them. The federal ammunition was all exhausted.

The troops fled. One of the first of the federal officers to cross the river was General Mercado who pitifully begged an asylum in a foreign land. He was taken to Major McNamee's headquarters.

The federal cavalry composed of 700 men under Generals Orozco and Salazar, did not cross the Rio Grande but probably succeeded in getting into the interior of Mexico, according to a late report.

Previously it had been reported that General Orozco crossed to the American side and escaped to the mountains near here.

Orozco and Salazar are under federal indictment in this country for violation of neutrality laws.

With the exception of these wounded or killed the federal garrison was composed of 4,000 soldiers. The escape of 700 cavalry would leave 3,300 soldiers to be accounted for. How many of these crossed to American soil or where they are Major McNamee said he would not learn until daylight.

The border patrol was ordered to remain out all night rounding up the federal refugees. The country about Ojinaga for the most part is a dreary waterless plain, with little to sustain life even for a herd of goats. If the fleeing federals without commissary supplies or water made their way into the interior of Mexico, death more terrible than that which might be inflicted by the rebels is thought to await them.

General Villa on occupying Ojinaga found many guns and some field pieces. He will use these in future campaigns. Ernest P. Bicknell, national director of the Red Cross, who arrived today probably will visit the battle field tomorrow with his staff to care for the wounded.

May Return Refugees.
The problem as to what disposition shall be made of the federals on this side will be referred to Brig.

Gen. Bliss, and to officials at Washington. Heretofore Major McNamee has had to deal with three or four hundred federal deserters. At first he disarmed them and then sent them back to the Mexican side. Later he was permitted to allow these to remain on American soil who said their lives were endangered. The defeat of the federals by their retreat to a foreign country placed them in the class of refugees entitled to asylum. It was thought here that the government most likely would enable them to return to Mexico, but at a point where they will not meet with rebels.

Six months ago, General Villa the victorious leader of the rebels entered in obscurity with nothing more than a borrowed revolver. After he captured Juarez, opposite El Paso and then occupied Chihuahua, a city of thirty-five thousand population, where he was hailed as a leader who was destined to depose Huerta.

It is understood that as soon as he clears from the border any possible remaining fugitives from Ojinaga, General Villa will return to Chihuahua and there resume his plans for carrying the fight southward to Mexico City.

Have Four Thousand To Care For.
Presidio, Texas, Jan. 11.—A report from Major McNamee early this morning (Sunday) was to the effect that he probably would have to care for 3,000 federal soldiers and 1,000 or more women and children. Hundreds started on the road to Marfa, Texas, but some were brought back by cavalrymen. Two hundred wounded were in the Red Cross Hospital. It was learned that when he had decided to give up, General Mercado himself went through the village telling soldiers and civilians to flee to the United States. This provoked something of a panic and a mad rush for the river began. In wild disorder a great mob plunged into the water. Soldiers toppled over women and children but all reached the American side in safety. General Mercado remained in the garrison until he saw that all that could be found were safe.

The federals had completed the evacuation before the rebels were fully aware of it. Some of the rebel guns were kept throwing shells into the deserted town. After the rebels occupied the town General Ortega came to the river to water his horse and yelled to the American side, "Hello there! This is Ortega. Have you got all the federals over there?"

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 10.—The southward movement of General Carranza who was reported today at Cruz de Piedra, two miles from the federal outposts at Guaymas, really means he intends to make a strategic movement against Guadalupe, according to private advice received here tonight from Hermosillo, Sonora. This information it was said, explained the apparent equivocation of the constitutionalist leader regarding a trip to Chihuahua.

If Carranza's plans regarding Guadalupe were perfected the advice stated he intends to follow the lines of Southern Pacific of Mexico into the territory of Tepic, with 10,000 men, a movement which would prevent Huerta from sending reinforcements to Ojinaga or any other point in Northern Mexico.

Believed Short of Ammunition.
Washington, Jan. 10.—Scarcity of ammunition necessary for the prosecution of a successful campaign, is believed by military experts here to be the consideration which is moving the constitutionalists under the immediate command of General Carranza to renew the siege of Guaymas on the west coast of Mexico. Heretofore the rebels have relied for such supplies of ammunition captured from the federals but this source recently has been cut off and so far as is known here the only resources now possessed by the rebels are the rapidly diminished stocks captured at Torreon many weeks ago.

The appearance in the immediate vicinity of Guaymas of General Carranza therefore, is believed to be part of a plan to secure ammunition by capturing a seaport where they can receive consignment of arms and ammunition from other countries than the United States, just as the Huerta government is receiving shipments of arms from Europe at Vera Cruz.

DAUBERT REFUSES OFFER.
New York, Jan. 10.—Jake Daubert, captain, and first baseman of the Brooklyn National League baseball club sent word to John B. Barbour, president of the Federal League club of Pittsburgh today that he would not accept an offer to manage the Pittsburgh Federal League team. "I will not play outside of organized baseball," said Daubert.

General Villa on occupying Ojinaga found many guns and some field pieces. He will use these in future campaigns. Ernest P. Bicknell, national director of the Red Cross, who arrived today probably will visit the battle field tomorrow with his staff to care for the wounded.

May Return Refugees.
The problem as to what disposition shall be made of the federals on this side will be referred to Brig.

C. H. MOYER LEAVES STRIKE DISTRICT

Goes to Chicago with Idea of Attending Executive Council Meeting at Washington

MAC KENNIS LEFT IN CHARGE

Two Hundred Men Are Said to Have Arrived in Houghton District Without Solicitation from Any Company

CALL SPECIAL STATE CONVENTION

HOUGHTON, Mich., Jan. 10.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, left the copper strike district again tonight. This time he went of his own free will, announcing that he was enroute to Chicago with the idea of attending to the coming meeting of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor in Washington.

Mr. Moyer traveled on the same train on which he was an unwilling passenger the night of December 26th. With his departure the strike is left in charge of R. S. Mac Kennis, of Denver, a member of the executive board of the federation. Charles Tanner, auditor of the union, who was deported with Mr. Moyer and returned with him to testify before the grand jury, also remained on the ground.

Additional Workers Added.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 10.—Additional underground workers were added to the company payrolls today. It was stated that two hundred men had arrived in the district without solicitation from any company and had voluntarily applied for work. About forty went to the Mohawk, fifty scattered among the Calumet and Hecla subsidiaries and the rest went to the south range.

The Calumet and Hecla management said they had been getting a score or more such volunteers daily for a week and that while there still was a shortage in the local labor market, that conditions rapidly were righting themselves.

In connection with the emigration to the south range where the copper range consolidated properties are operated, it was announced that the champion mill would be started Monday.

Charles H. Moyer spoke at today's meeting in Calumet and Apamek. His addresses were short and followed closely the lines of his talk in Hancock yesterday. Seymour Steadman of Chicago and Charles Edward Russell of New York, members of the socialist investigating committee, also appeared on the platform, the former at Calumet and the latter at Apamek.

Call State Convention.
Kalamazoo, Mich., Jan. 10.—The first special state convention in the history of the Michigan Federation of Labor was officially called tonight to meet at Lansing, January 29th, to devise plans for financially assisting the striking copper miners and to name a committee "to carry the strike situation before congress."

Delegates from the Western Federation of Miners, will be received at the meeting. Definite announcement of the meeting was made tonight by Homer F. Waterman, secretary of the state federation.

JUDGE REMONSTRATES AGAINST THE PRESENT JURY SYSTEM

Declares Three-fourths Majority in Civil Cases Should be Sufficient.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—The fourth grand jury to disagree in a damage suit before circuit Judge John Gibbons today joined the court in a remonstrance against the present jury system, requiring an unanimous verdict in civil cases. Failure of the jurors to find a verdict after nine hours of debate exasperated the court into penning a criticism of trial procedure in general.

"Our archaic jury system requiring an unanimous verdict of twelve men, in civil cases, is a travesty on justice," read the protest. "I trust you will unite with me in registering our protest against the system and in asking for an amendment to our constitution so that a three-fourths verdict may be received in civil cases."

Each juror signed the statement. The suit was brought by Irene Meyers against the Adam Schillo Lumber company for damages for injuries received in 1903.

POSTMAN INDICTED ON CHARGE OF DELAYING MAIL DELIVERY

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Michael B. Coyle, a mail carrier was indicted today by the federal grand jury under the statute which makes loitering by postmen while on their route, or delay by them in delivering their mail a criminal offense. It was charged that Coyle failed to complete his route Christmas day, but left his bag, which contained a number of registered packages at the home of a friend.

Five years imprisonment and a fine of $500 may be imposed for violation of this postal law.

THOUSANDS PAY THEIR RESPECTS TO PRESIDENT

PUBLIC RECEPTION IS HELD AT COTTAGE IN PASS CHRISTIAN

Mr. Wilson Apparently Enjoys the Occasion Immensely—Greeting Those Who Shook Hands With a Cordial Smile.

PASS CHRISTIAN, Miss., Jan. 10.—Nearly two thousand residents of this region paid their respects to President Wilson late today at a public reception at the presidential cottage. Guests were welcomed by the President and Mrs. Wilson, who stood on the cottage verandas in the warm, bright sunshine. Mr. Wilson apparently enjoyed the occasion immensely greeting those who shook hands with a cordial smile. Incidentally it was the first public reception under the present administration.

The president is highly appreciative of the manner in which the residents have scrupulously observed his desire for seclusion and rest and it was in recognition of their courtesy that he tendered the reception on the day of his departure to Washington.

Automobiles, carriages, rickety traps, crude farm wagons, dust covered saddle horses and crowded trolley cars brought eager people to the reception. Pretty girls, aged confederate veterans in gray uniforms, mothers carrying their babies and little children by the score passed up the steps to meet the president.

Confederate General Leaves Card.
A picturesque figure among those who shook hands with the president was General A. C. Oxford, of Birmingham, Ala., who wore a resplendent confederate uniform. He left his card with the president. On the reverse side of the card appeared these words:

"If I ever disown, repudiate or apologize for the cause for which I fought and Jackson died, let the lightning of Heaven rend me."

Standing in the receiving line with President and Mrs. Wilson were Misses Margaret and Eleanor Wilson, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, Misses Lucy and Mary Smith or New Orleans, house guests at the president's cottage and Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N.

The reception was the closing event of an interesting day for President Wilson. As he returned from the Gulfport Golf Links this morning, crowds greeted him along the road, presenting him with flowers and other gifts. As Mr. Wilson passed the home of former Congressman Bowers he was given a gigantic bunch of grape fruit, while children along the way presented him with oranges and bananas.

The presidential party will leave at 11:15 tomorrow night by special train for Washington, where they will arrive early Tuesday.

PROMINENT MERCHANT IS CHARGED WITH WHITE SLAVERY

Man Who Figured in Failure of Colfax, Ind., Bank and Death of Cashier, is Arrested.

COLFAX, Ind., Jan. 10.—George H. York, a merchant who recently figured prominently in the investigation of the failure of the Citizens Bank of Colfax which was followed by the death of M. B. Wheelock the cashier, was arrested by a deputy United States marshal today on the charge of having violated the Mann white slave act. The information was sworn out for York's arrest by D. H. Stretton, federal secret service inspector. He is accused of having brought Mrs. D. E. Jackson, a widow, from Kansas City to Des Moines last April.

York was indignant over the matter and declared he had been "horse-whipped long enough with the Colfax bank failure and the death of Wheelock."

He insisted that he was innocent of the white slave charge. He was arraigned before E. E. Fitzsimmons, United States commissioner at Des Moines this afternoon. Trial was set for May 12th. Bond was fixed at $2,000.

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 10.—In order to avoid what appeared certain sacrifice of two lives, Lincoln Beachey, aviator, deliberately wrecked his biplane late today and fell twenty-five feet, sustaining slight injuries.

REACH AGREEMENT FOR DISSOLUTION

Re-Organization of New Haven System Will Be Effected Without Anti-Trust Suit

WILL DISPOSE OF HOLDINGS

Department of Justice Gains Practically Every Point It Demanded—Elliott and
Hadley Make Announcements

HAS NO BEARING ON CRIMINAL SUITS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and the department of justice tonight announced a preliminary agreement designed to effect a re-organization of the New Haven and to prevent a suit for its dissolution under the Sherman law.

In compliance with department demands the New Haven will dispose of its holdings in the Boston & Maine railroad, cancel its joint agreement controlling the Boston & Albany, give up its trolley lines and several of its steamship lines. The question of its retention of the so-called "sound lines of steamships" will be left for the present at least, to the inter-state commerce commission.

Elliott Announces Agreement.

It was conceded tonight that the department of justice gained practically every point it demanded. Announcement of the agreement was made in a statement from Chairman Howard Elliott and President A. T. Hadley of Yale, who also is a member of the New Haven board.

The announcement of the agreement does not have any bearing on the much-talked of criminal suits against former directors and officials of the New Haven railroad. There has been no decision by department officials upon this point and there probably will be none for several weeks. Some officials are known to feel that such suits would avail but little since the men generally understood to be responsible for financial operations involving the New Haven probably could not be reached by the federal government.

Officials of the department of justice were of the opinion tonight that the New Haven agreement was as big a victory for the principle of peaceful settlement of anti-trust cases as that registered in the case of the American Telephone & Telegraph company.

Dissolution Will Take Long Time.
They recognized the fact that the New Haven could not be expected to dispose of its holdings in a few months. They recognized the weight of the argument that, to force the road to get rid of its interests within a specified time merely would permit prospective buyers to wait until that time limit expired and then pay their own price. It was generally believed that final readjustment cannot be reached for many months and, on some points probably not for several years. Attorney general McKeenolds has said from the beginning of the negotiations, however, that both Chairman Elliott and Mr. Hadley had shown an earnest desire to meet the department's demands and that their plans would be regarded in the friendliest light.

No official statement was forthcoming from the attorney general tonight, but he has explained frequently that he was most anxious to see an agreement reached whereby suit could be avoided.

"Under the changed conditions," says the statement, "Seigel, Cooper and company will not have its capital and credit drawn upon by the eastern houses and will be independent of them."

Several of the "eastern houses" referred to recently went into the hands of receivers.

MITCHEL DECLARES WAR ON GOMPERS

EMPHATIC ORDERS GIVEN THAT BANDS MUST BE BROKEN UP

Killing of Prominent German Citizen by Bullets Fired in a Street Fight Prompts Mayor's Action—Round Up Leaders.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Mayor John Purroy Mitchel declared war today on the organized gangs of the city and caused emphatic orders to be given the police that these bands of drug fiends, murderers and thieves must be broken up. As means to the end the order issued by Mayor Gaynor, which had been construed by the police to forbid the uniformed police to use their clubs or revolvers in combating the gangsters, probably will be rescinded. The killing last night of Frederick Straus, a prominent German citizen by bullets fired during a street fight between rival East Side gangsters prompted the mayor's action. Police Commissioner Douglas McKay started the crusade by ordering a round-up of gang leaders. A score or more had been brought to police headquarters by nightfall and the scouts of the department continued to scour the haunts of the underworld in their search for others.

The gangs of years ago had their good points, it was claimed but no such claim has been set up for the modern bands of thugs who infest various quarters of the city, particularly the thickly populated East Side.

The later day "gunman" as the gang member has become ordinarily to be called, is commonly of the anaemic, skulking type, the police declare, who mainly exists off the earnings of his women companions and is only dangerous when stimulated by drugs.

In announcing his intention to break up the gangs that have developed along the lines indicated, Mayor Mitchel issued a statement explaining the situation.

"We mean to look fully into conditions which tend to develop these gangs," he said. "Every one knows that much has been done in the past few years by way of recreational facilities, athletics and the influence of the schools to minimize this evil. We must do more to correct as well as to suppress."

"But in the meantime I shall insist that there be no compromise with the gangsters."

THOMAS MOTT OSBORNE CONDEMNNS
AUBURN PRISON CONDITIONS

Charges New York State With Having Murdered Men and Driven Others Insane.

New York, Jan. 10.—That the conditions obtaining in the Auburn state prison are the result of the unreasonable imbecility of the whole management in this state, was the statement made today by Thomas Mott Osborne, chairman of the state commission on prison reform, in an address made before the City Club. Mr. Osborne, who some time ago served as a voluntary prisoner in the Auburn prison charged the state with having murdered men and driven others insane through punishments and disciplinary measures like those of the middle ages.

More freedom of action for prisoners and an opportunity for a more natural life were advocated by Mr. Osborne.

He took exception to the criticism directed against him by Ex-president Taft and declared that the former chief executive was not in possession of all the facts when he described the commissioner's self-imposed incarceration as "piece of sensationalism."

TWELVE WORST BOYS IN U. S.
BROUGHT TOGETHER IN CHICAGO

Will Leave Today To Establish
"Last Chance Boys' Club" Near Reno, Nev.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—The twelve worst boys in the United States were brought together here tonight. They will leave Sunday to establish the "last chance boys' club" on a nine acre ranch twenty seven miles from Reno, Nev., where an effort will be made to make valuable citizens of them. The club is supported by Jack London, Upton Sinclair, Robert Hunter and Jack Robbins, president of Glenwood National Fellowship club.

The boys range in age from thirteen to fifteen years. They were selected from among 9,000 bad boys in twelve states and each is rated at over 87 per cent bad. Mr. Robbins started Oct. 2, in search of them. Their home cities are: Hartford, Conn.; Sioux City, Ia.; Mishawaka, Ind.; Lima, O.; Detroit, Mich.; Erie, Pa.; Racine, Wis.; Bridgeport, Conn.; East St. Louis, Brooklyn and Wheeling, W. Va.

"We do not believe in anything of a police nature in the reformation of boys," said Mr. Robbins. "We are going to give our plan a several year trial. If successful it will start the greatest bad boy reclamation project ever known."

JUDGE HALTS SUITS AGAINST RAILROADS

Enjoins Attorney General of Missouri from Proceeding
With Overcharge Cases

FOLLOWS EXCITING DAY

Cases Involve Over $24,000,000 Overcharges Said to Have Been Made
During Life of Injunctions

MAKES VITROLIC ATTACK ON JUDGE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 10.—Judge Smith McPherson in the federal court late today enjoined John T. Barker, attorney general of Missouri from proceeding in state courts with suits for $24,000,000 overcharges against Missouri railroads and took the Missouri railroad rate case under further advisement for three weeks.

The overcharges, the state contends, were made during the life of the federal court injunctions preventing enforcement of the Missouri maximum freight and two-cent passenger fare laws.

The United States supreme court recently held the laws constitutional and ordered Judge McPherson to dissolve the injunctions preventing their enforcement.

Judge McPherson's action followed an exciting day in court during which General Barker demanded the judge dismiss the instructions without further delay. Attorney General Barker made a vitrolic attack upon Judge McPherson, shouting in the midst of it:

"You cannot continue to police this state for the railroads." Judge McPherson listened to the attack in silence. At the end of it he said:

"In my thirteen and one half years on the federal bench I have never been informed by anyone or anything except my conscience. While I would like the good opinion of all men I prefer the opinion of my own conscience. I shall not be swayed from the dictates of my conscience by any bouquets or by any brick-bats."

Following the mandate of the United States supreme court which ordered the injunctions against the enforcement of the two cent fare and maximum freight laws dismissed, Judge McPherson on Dec. 20th, last, made an order dismissing the cases but later in the day suspended it until today at the request of railway attorneys, who asked that the judge amend the decree by inserting a provision retaining jurisdiction for overcharges.

Between the time the decision was read and the time the judge suspended it, Attorney General Barker filed suit in state courts for the overcharges.</

STOP THIEF COMING MONDAY

St. Louis Globe Democrat: Carlye Moore's straight farce, Stop Thief, which began a week's engagement at the Shubert Sunday night with promise of a more than ordinarily prosperous week, is to repeat straight farce and welcome its undisputed form on that account. Such a plot as Mr. Moore evolves here is invention pure and simple, with just enough of traverse of possibility to give it zest and admit of comparison with probability. The author deals with allegedly as well as actually shady people throughout his story and the crimes they are shown to commit are funny because they are so evidently impossible.

We see the machinations of an old man and his prospective son-in-law both kleptomaniacs and a girl thief and her lover, masquerading respectively as a lady's maid and a detective. Mr. Moore is not long in piling complications in which this quartet are made to figure. To thicken the plot a bogus detective, a doctor and other characters not exactly "fillers" are called into action and when things have been snarled up so that the end of the skein in deep in the middle of the plot, defying unravelment, two or three sudden turns in the story unknit it in a most refreshing manner.

Mr. Moore will not, being a sensible sort of chap by general repute, take umbrage at the statement that Stop Thief would not be nearly so funny as it is were there not on hand a finely balanced company to give the delineation of the work the needed force and direction.

William Carr plays the old and James Clancy the young kleptomaniac. It is their business to start the absent-minded stealings and on the deftness with which they begin much of the subsequent theft depends. The eminent character actor, John Findlay, famous for his co-operation in You Never Can Tell and other of George Benard Shaw's plays in the good old Arnold Daly days, is in one of his best "old man" characters. Charles Brown's brightness in the movements of true comedy brought much deserved applause. John Webster as "Jack Doogan," the bogus sleuth; James Manning as the genuine article from headquarters; Miss Leila Frost as "Joan Carr," the youngest daughter, and Miss Fanchon Campbell as the mother, Miss Susanna Wills as "Nell," the thief-lady's maid, and all the rest, in fact must be credited with fine individual and even finer team work, which baseball phrase is admissible in a farce, the play of which is as swift as Stop Thief.

Will Be Army Surgeon General

Colonel William C. Gorgas, who made the Panama canal zone habitable for white men, is said in Washington to be slated for appointment as surgeon general of the army to succeed Brigadier General George H. Torney, who died recently. Dr. Gorgas is actively interested in the newly formed Life Extension institute, recently organized to lengthen human life by educational methods. Ex-President Taft, Professor Irving Fisher of Yale university, Dr. Eugene L. Fisk, the well known New York physician, and E. E. Rittenhouse, the New York insurance expert, are other prominent men interested in the movement.

Chautauqua Meeting.
Subscribers and guarantors of season tickets have all received notices of the Chautauqua meeting to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms next Tuesday afternoon, 4 o'clock for the choosing of the officers of the permanent organization apart from the Chamber of Commerce, which is to be formed. This is a critical stage in the development of the Chautauqua movement and if you are more than a mere spectator you will be present. Mr. Shaw will be here and an important beginning made with this year's program. You will have just as much say as any other party interested, so keep this date in mind.

Why Buy at Home.
Because my interests are here.
Because I want to see the goods I am buying.
Because I want to get what I buy when I pay for it.
Because I believe in transacting business with my friends.
Because my home merchant will take care of me when I am short of cash.
Because the merchant I buy from pays his share of the county and town taxes.
Because the community that is good enough for me to live in is good enough for me to buy in.
Because the home merchant I buy from stands back of his goods, thus always giving value received.

The dollar sent away seldom returns, while the money spent at home is apt to leave a scrapping at your door.

Let us make this a good place in which to work and live. It's easy and certain if everyone will do his share.

Because the merchant I buy from helps our poor and needy, our schools, our churches, our lodges and homes.

Because some part of every dollar I spend at home stays at home and helps work for the welfare of the town and county.

Because of ill luck, misfortune or bereavement comes, the merchant I buy from is here with his kindly expression of greeting, his words of cheer, and if needed, his pocket-book.

Directors' Meeting.
The last regular meeting of the board of directors to be held before the annual election, which will take place on February 3, will be held Tuesday evening, at 7:30 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. There are a number of important matters to be taken up by the present board before the new officers take charge. It is desired that all will try to be present.

PROGRAM IN CHARGE

OF ART COMMITTEE

Paper and Picture by Miss Lena McCauley Feature of January Meeting of Woman's Club.

The January meeting of the Woman's Club was held in Academy hall Saturday afternoon. After the minutes of the last two meetings were read the ladies listened to two songs, "Starry Night" and "Love is Meant to Make Us Glad," by Miss Rebecca Shiebel, accompanied by Miss Cox.

The program of the afternoon was in charge of the Art Committee of the club, of which Miss Anna Brown of the high school is chairman. The room was divided by pictures—forty-six in number—which are known as the Illinois Federation Traveling Art Collection. The pictures together with a paper written by Miss Lena McCauley, art critic of the Chicago Evening Post, are being sent to the Woman's clubs, of the state where they have one meeting devoted to art. Similar collections are sent to schools and into the most congested sections of Chicago where the working people may enjoy them and perhaps get an inspiration. For a good picture that has something to say and says it, is of untold value. In one of the reformatories, an inmate not of mature years stood looking at a painting of a grain field. Finally he said, "Gee, if I had been there I wouldn't have been here."

"Art is true translation of what is seen or dreamed or imagined, and good art embodies noble and beautiful thoughts." As art always follows the keynote of an age, the subjects of painting reflect the spiritual character of the times. American art is distinctively of landscape and poetry—simple and truthful like the poetry of Whittier and Longfellow. The artists paint what they see and thus translate the beauties of nature truthfully. In looking at a collection like the one shown today we should not try to compare such paintings as these with the large pictures shown in museums and galleries.

Nearly all of the artists represented in the Loan collection live in or near Chicago and spend much time painting in the states near or bordering on Lake Michigan. They are members of the Chicago Society of Artists and hold monthly meetings and an annual exhibit in the Art Institute. The society is unique in that it is the only body of its kind in the country harmoniously controlled by its members.

Miss Mary C. Upham read the paper and Miss Brown made an effort to hold each picture as mentioned as all could get a good view of it. The artists represented and their subjects were:

Adam Emory Albright—"Children."
Henry Wilson Barnitz—"Apple Blossoms" and "Old Age."
Marie Baue—"River Mouth."
William P. Clusman—"Evening" and "The Edge of the Woods."
Walter Marshall Clute—"Lady Flower Jace" and "Vegetables."
Mrs. Eleanor Colburn—"Gathering Kelp on the Maine Coast."
Dr. J. E. Colburn—"Northern Lake Michigan."
Eugenie Fish Glaman—"Cows in the Orchard."
Charles E. Halberg—"Scene on the Hudson."
Lucie Hartrath—"The Road."
Wilson H. Irvine—"Orange and Blue."
Alfred Jeurgens—"On the Desplains," "High Seas" and "Summer in Holland."
Frank M. Peebles—"Sunset."
Pauline Palmer—"By the Fireside."
Allen E. Philbrick—"A Quiet Love."
Anna L. Stacy—"The Star Fish."
John Stacy—"September in New England."
Antonio Sterba—"Corn Stalks."
Caroline D. Wade—"The Fish House."
Helen B. Stevens—"The Cooperage."
Charles L. Mullens, the head of the sculpture department of the Art Institute, was represented by three prints showing "The Miner," "Peace and Power," and "Law and Wisdom."

THIS BANK— REAL BANKING SERVICE—

Real Banking Service is more than a matter of dollars and cents—more than a matter of principal and interest.

Real Banking Service is based on human interest and principles.

A man or woman, boy or girl starts an account—this at first only represents so much money.

As time goes on the depositor learns that this bank means more to him than merely a place to put his money. He acquires the banking habit, gets acquainted with the bank officials and forms a bank relationship—more than merely an acquaintance.

He becomes known at the bank. In time business or professional opportunities come. He needs advice or help. He comes to this bank for it. The advice he receives is dependable and is cheerfully given.

He finds that character, personality, individuality—call it what you may—is a real business asset—one that he can bank on—one that is a great help to him in his business affairs.

Later he has us draw his will, makes us his executor, knowing that our charges are moderate, that in case of his death his estate will be handled by men who know how and that his wishes will be carried out promptly, economically and safely.

For this is his bank. The bank knows him—helps and advises him on matters financial, just as his doctor and lawyer advise him on matters of health and law.

To get the best out of your bank, select it now for its character, strength and service. Then stay with it and grow with it.—THIS BANK

Repeat Orders

Sometimes a man will be talked into buying a thing and afterwards regret it. But if he repeats the order it shows that the article is staple and its importance grows with familiarity. Now listen:

Babcock Fire Extinguishers are a staple. Those who know them best buy most freely. The State Institutions of this city have been using them for 40 years and they buy more every year. Our Saviour's Hospital bought several years ago and have since increased the number. Passavant Hospital first bought 2, then added 10. The Woman's College bought 11 and a year later bought 27 more. The Trustees of Illinois College, after having them in their own homes for years, bought 28 for the college buildings.

In business, Harry Frankel bought 1, then 2; Copps & Frank bought 2, then 1; Ethie Bros. 3, then 7. There are but instances.

DON'T YOU THINK THEY ARE WORTH YOUR SERIOUS CONSIDERATION?

INVOKES VAGRANCY LAW TO DRIVE OUT DISORDERLY WOMEN

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—The vagrancy law has been invoked to drive out disorderly women. A conviction was obtained today in a test case and hundreds of prosecutions are promised.

"We now have a weapon we can use against frequenters of wine rooms, professional escorts and others who have no occupations," asserted Chief of Police Gleason.

"Heretofore we have been unable to obtain convictions of disorderly characters unless we possessed the strongest evidence. I expect to clean up the vice district in a short time."

ANNOUNCE DATES OF PRACTICE GAMES.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Dates of practice games to be played by the Chicago Americans during their training trip were announced today by Secretary Grabiner. One squad will play at Oakland, Calif., March 5, the morning of March 8, March 12, and the morning of March 15. A second squad will play at San Francisco March 6, 7, 8, 13, and 14 and April 15.

The White Sox special will leave for Paso Robles, Calif., Feb. 19. After about two weeks of practice the players will be divided into two squads.

DEATH RATE NEARLY STATIONARY.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Chicago's death rate remained nearly stationary in 1913, according to the annual report today of the health commission. The rate was 15.05 per 1,000—an increase of four tenths of per cent.

There were 55,291 deaths in Chicago last year and preventable diseases claimed about 15,000 victims.

PLANTS IN SLEEP.

Some Take Their Naps at Night, Others During the Day.

Clover shuts its leaves before rain and at night, bringing two of its three leaves face to face and folding the third over the top. The young blossoms are also carefully sheltered by inclosing leaves which move forward in the evening and wrap them around.

There are two plants in the garden whose flowers sleep by day—the night blooming stock and Lychins vesperina. The former is withered and shriveled in daylight, but expands and exhales a vanilla-like odor at night. The lychins is white, and in bright sunshine every flower closes and hangs limply down.

As the sun sets this Endymion plant awakes expectant of the moon. The drooping calyxes raise themselves and slowly expand their flowers. It visibly ceases to droop and fade, and the plant, which almost died by day, is adorned anew. Its sister, the red lychins, shines by day and is called diurna, but this white one has long left the beaten ancestral path and has become vespertina.

As it opens small flies appear and visit it. The calyx is of that reddish hue which they approve. The sun dew which attracts flies shows the same dull red in its leaves. It is not a rarity, but few have seen its blossoms opened.—Scotsman.

TEST YOUR BAROMETER.

Air or Moisture in the Tube Will Render It Unreliable.

Don't expect a barometer to tell you the truth about the weather until you have tested it thoroughly. Two common causes for unreliability are air and water mixed with the mercury in the tube. These can be expelled by boiling the mercury.

In order to test a barometer let it hang for a time in the proper position; then gently and with care incline it so that the mercury may strike against the glass tube. If there is no air with it, you will hear a sharp metallic click, but if the sound is dull and muffled it indicates the presence of both air and moisture. The presence of air alone is shown by minute bubbles.

If at any time the mercury seems to adhere to the tube, even in the slightest degree, and the convex surface assumes a more flattened form it is safe to conclude that either air or moisture is present. In any of these cases the instrument should be put into expert hands for rectification.

There are several kinds of barometers. The ordinary "weather glass" in common use is more or less unreliable and is easily made more so by careless handling. In fact, any barometer must be treated with great respect in order to retain its usefulness.—Harper's Weekly.

The First False Teeth.

Until little more than a century ago humanity had to rub along without false teeth, of which nowadays one firm alone claims to sell over 12,000,000 a year. The first successful maker was Giuseppe Ponsi, an Italian dentist, who started practice in Paris in 1798 and, thanks to his skillful treatment of Lucien Bonaparte, soon made his way. After years of experiment he discovered the substance from which artificial teeth are made and received the gold medal of the French Academy of Science. One of the earliest persons fitted with false teeth was the empress of Russia. After Waterloo Ponsi migrated to London and then to Madrid, where Ferdinand VII. rewarded him with a yearly pension of 1,000 ducats for a set of false teeth.

FARMERS ATTENTION

Geo. S. Gay, Jacksonville, Ill., wish to announce that they have arranged with the American Steel & Wire Company for a moving picture entertainment of great interest to the farmers. This is entitled "Through the Furnace to the Farm," and deals with the manufacture of steel, especially the nails, barbed wire and woven wire fence used on the farm.

There are 5,000 feet of film in five reels, and these are just a few of the scenes shown:
Mining with giant steam shovels, Mammoth Clam-Shell buckets, Huge Ore-carrying boats, Blast Furnace in action, Drawing off the Molten Pig Iron, Bessemer and Open Hearth Processes.

A train load of white hot ingots. Rolling out the plastic metal. Cold wire drawing. Galvanizing. Weaving wire fence. The proper way to build fence on the farm.

These have been pronounced the greatest industrial pictures of the age, and it is worth while for any farmer to see them. Admission is by ticket only. Any farmer may obtain free tickets for himself and family by calling on Geo. S. Gay, Jacksonville. Don't forget the time and the place, Jan. 16th, Friday, at Scott's Theatre at 1:30 p. m.

HE WAS A GOOD SOLDIER.

And His Loss Was Deplored by Paul I., the Half Mad Czar.

In Walezewski's life of Paul I., the half mad son of Catherine the Great, occurs the following anecdote illustrative of the workings of the disorganized mind. It seems that in a report on military affairs submitted to the Emperor Paul the final syllable kij of the Russian word for cornet or ensign was carried over from one page to another.

The emperor took it for a proper name, and, moved by a caprice, he gave orders that Ensign Kij should be promoted to the rank of Lieutenant. He saw an expression of embarrassment and disappointment on the faces of the staff, who did not dare to explain his error; so the next day he promoted the Lieutenant of the day before to the rank of captain and some days later to that of colonel, demanding that the officer should be presented to him at once. There was consternation everywhere. The officers were turned upside down in search of the imaginary Kij.

A subaltern of the name or something like it was found in one of the regiments quartered on the Don. He was sent for, but Paul grew impatient, and in the end he had to be told that Kij had been carried off suddenly by a stroke.

"That is a pity," observed the czar. "He was a good soldier."

THE NAME "ARTHUR."

It Has a Wider Significance Than Is Generally Supposed.

The New Life, the London organ of "the most ancient faith," gives its readers the following recondite notes on the name "Arthur."

The name is not pronounced Arthur, but Ar-Tau-r.

The "A" is added for pronouncing in an accentuated manner.

The "R" should be by itself and is pronounced like "aro."

"R" signifies the head, and the second part of the name is "Th" or "Tau" or "Tor."

Artan or Arthur is a tetragrammaton and is shown as R-Th-O-R. It means the head of Thor or Tor—i. e., the head of the highest intelligence.

The Tharus or Tharus of the east is similar to the Tauris or Toris of Ireland and Scotland. They were the religious mendicants of the past who led the people rightly in the way of the most ancient faith. With the uprooting of the ancient idealism these mendicants gradually assumed a political mission because of their social power among the Celtic peoples.

The word Tory associated with modern politics has come from this. The word Tory, therefore, has a similar meaning to Arthur and implies "the party or people of divine intelligence."

Portugal's Wonderful Climate.

The climate of Portugal is the most wonderful in Europe. A polyglot crowd of scores of thousands flies annually to the Riviera from every part of Europe in order to enjoy the supposed maximum of sunshine, but often to be undeceived by weeping skies and with the cruel mistral as a certainty. At Lisbon, on the other hand, cold weather as understood elsewhere is literally unknown. The temperature is not only higher than that of the Riviera, but is equal to a degree that almost defies belief. What this means in practical effect is illustrated by the fact that in March last I met an English lady on board ship who had stayed six weeks at Mont' Estoril, near Lisbon, and had bathed in the sea every day in February. Nor was the season exceptionally warm.—Scribner's.

The Pundit's Pun.

A very distinguished British man of science had the folly, says Professor Brander Matthews in the Century Magazine, of inventing thrilling episodes and pretending that they were of his own experience.

On one occasion, after he had spun a marvelous yarn, with himself in the center of the coil, a skeptical friend looked him in the eye and asked sternly, "Clifford, do you mean to say that this really occurred to you?" whereupon the imaginative man of science replied, with a twinkle:

"Yes—it just occurred to me!"

Severe Test.

"Does your husband treat you unkindly?" asked the lawyer.

"Certainly not," said the unsubstantial woman.

"Then why do you want a divorce?"

"I don't actually want a divorce. I merely want to apply for one. Then I can judge by the kind of a fuss my husband makes whether he really cares for me or not."—Washington Star.

Crushed.

"Miss Gladys, can you cook?" inquired the prospective suitor cautiously.

"I can," she answered sweetly, "but the young man I am engaged to as sure me that I won't have to."—Kansas City Journal.

He Was Hungry.

Bill Wayback (after studying the bill of fare with interest—"Ere, bring me all wots on 'ere an' a piece of bread!"—Sydney Bulletin.

What He Wanted.

"Is this a second-hand shop?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, I want one for my watch."—Smart Set.

Let every man mind his own business and endeavor to be what he was made.—Thoreau.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Pitcher Van Gregg of the Naps is doing a "Sherlock Holmes" stunt in a Cleveland department store this winter.

It appears more than likely the White Sox will take up their old training quarters at Paso Robles, Cal., again next spring.

For the 17th consecutive year "Honus" Wagner of the Pirates has batted .300 or better. His general average for the entire period is .341.

Pitcher Bob Harmon may not return to the big show in 1914. With the title to 500 acres of land in his pocket the Cardinal finger has become a real plantation owner.

Catcher Bill Kelly, who was recently released by Pittsburgh to Toronto, balks at joining Joe Kelley's team. Bill wants to return to his first love, that dear old St. Paul.

Manager George Stallings of the Braves says that while he regards Joe Thacker as a great ball player, he wouldn't think of trading "Rabbit" Maraville for the former manager of the Reds.

George Mullin, the former Detroit pitcher, may hook up with a Federal league club. George is now working in the office of Ed. Stein, former big league pitcher and now county treasurer at Detroit.

The Red Sox may hate to cut out Hot Springs as a training camp after next year. Their practice field there has been sold to the local railroad company, which will take possession next May.

President George Tebeau of the Kansas City Blues is trying to arrange for a Western league team to play on his lot when the Blues are on the road. George figures that this arrangement would put a crimp in the Federal league patronage in K. C.

Among the visitors in the city yesterday from Lynnville were J. D. F. Goveia and daughter, Miss Nettie, William Stevenson, Fred Duckwall, Ray Sears, John Parker and Arthur Kitchen.

Gets Right Twist On Rheumatism

Makes Short Work of Cleaning Out Your Entire System—Aches and Pains Go Fast.

In S. S. S. You Get a Twist on Rheumatism That Settles It.

Many a rheumatic sufferer has been to the drug store for a bottle of S. S. S. and been handed something claimed to be "Just as good." Truly, to ask for bread and be given a stone is still in practice. If you are troubled with rheumatism in any form be sure to use S. S. S. and note its wonderful influence.

S. S. S. has the peculiar action of soaking through the intestines directly into the blood. In five minutes its influence is at work in every artery, vein and tiny capillary. Every membrane, every organ of the body, every emunctory becomes in effect a filter to strain the blood of impurities. The stimulating properties of S. S. S. compel the skin, liver, bowels, kidneys, bladder to all work to the one end of casting out every irritating, every pain-inflaming atom of poison; it dislodges by irrigation all accumulations in the joints, causes acid accretions to dissolve, renders them neutral and scatters those peculiar formations in the nerve centers that cause such mystifying and often baffling rheumatic pains.

And best of all this remarkable remedy is welcome to the weakest stomach. If you have dragged yourself until your stomach is nearly paralyzed, you will be astonished to find that S. S. S. gives no sensation but goes right to work. This is because it is a pure vegetable infusion, is taken naturally into your blood just as pure air is inhaled naturally into your lungs.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today, and ask for S. S. S.

You may depend upon it that the store that sells you what you ask for is a good place to trade. Write to the Swift Specific Co., 704 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their Book on Rheumatism.

MRS. LAURA REUTER FACES SECOND TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

Oklahoma Woman Accused of Killing Husband Will Appear in Court Again This Week.

Bartlesville, Okla., Jan. 10.—A great legal battle to save Mrs. Laura H. Reuter from imprisonment in the penitentiary for life is scheduled to begin here Monday, which is the day set for the opening of the second trial of the Tulsa woman on the charge of having murdered her husband. The first trial was held last October and resulted in a verdict of guilty and a sentence of life imprisonment. Since her conviction Mrs. Reuter has been at liberty on $5,000 bail. Judge R. C. Allen of Muskogee county has been named to preside at the second trial.

Few cases in the court records of Oklahoma have attracted so much attention as the Reuter case. Chas. T. Reuter, the murdered man, was one of the leading attorneys of Tulsa. Prior to coming to Oklahoma he resided in Peoria, Ill. On the morning of May 5, 1912, he was found dead in the bed room of his home, in the fashionable residence section of Tulsa. He was shot twice through the head. Neighbors found Mrs. Reuter, who slept across the hall, locked in her room. They had been attracted by the shots and the screams of the woman. One hundred and fifty dollars in cash and some valuable jewelry which Mr. Reuter was known to wear were missing and the natural inference was that the lawyer had been killed by burglars.

But the burglary theory did not altogether satisfy the police and they started an investigation along different lines. The result was the arrest of Guy D. Mackenzie, Grover Bellevue, his chauffeur, and Joe Baker. The three were taken into custody on the theory that Reuter's murder was the result of a conspiracy, with robbery as a blind to conceal the real motive. The police learned that Mackenzie often visited with the Reuter home; that he had taken Mrs. Reuter on automobile rides frequently; that he had received presents from her; that he had helped Mrs. Reuter put her children to bed when Mr. Reuter was absent; that he stole Mr. Reuter's revolver from his office desk and that Reuter had threatened to kill him if he did not stay away from his home.

Bellevue, the chauffeur, made a confession of the part he had taken in the conspiracy. Immediately after, Mrs. Reuter was arrested on a charge of first degree murder. The charge against Bellevue was dropped in consideration of his turning state's evidence. Mackenzie and Baker were tried, convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. Mrs. Reuter was then placed on trial and likewise was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

The convicted woman comes of good family and prior to the tragedy occupied a high social position in Tulsa, where she was prominently identified with church work and women's club life. She is the daughter of Benjamin McKean, at one time postmaster at Indianapolis, is 26 years old and has two small children.

TRINITY CHURCH BUSINESS SESSION

The annual business meeting of Trinity Parish will be held Monday evening, Jan. 12, in the Parish room at 7:30 for the hearing of reports of treasurer of the parish and the reports of treasurers and secretaries of Guilds and for the election of officers for the ensuing year, beginning Jan. 1. All members of the parish are urged to be present.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

Much interest in being manifested in the concert to be given Monday night by Clarence Eddy. Mr. Eddy has been giving recitals of this kind for a great many years, and is one of the leading exponents of pipe organ music now living. He appeared in Jacksonville a number of years ago when the organ at the State Street Presbyterian church was dedicated by him.

President Harker has returned from a meeting of the College President's Association at Hacketts-town, N. J. While there he read a paper, entitled "Multiplying Demands and Increasing Opportunities." He reports a very profitable meeting and a delightful time.

Mrs. Mary Car Curtis, National Students' Secretary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, is visiting the College. She has made several talks to the students, and has been advising those who plan to go into missionary work. Mrs. Curtis has just returned from the Convention at Kansas City, where most of the leading colleges of the United States were represented. Rachel Morris was the student delegate and Miss Mary Anderson represented the faculty at this convention.

A number of new students have entered to take up their work for the second term. E. B. Houck, financial secretary, is away on a trip in northern part of the state in the interest of the College. Mrs. Lambert, Field Secretary, has also been away for a few days.

The recital in expression postponed from Dec. 12th will be given in Music Hall Friday evening, Jan. 16th.

College of Music Notes.

The new year opened auspiciously in the College of Music. Everyone reports a delightful holiday season. We are glad to be back in the harness again and to greet the familiar as well as a number of promising new faces.

We are looking forward with great pleasure to the next number of our artists' course, the organ recital, to be given Monday, January 12, in Music hall, by the eminent concert organist, Clarence Eddy. The program arranged promises to be very interesting.

The first of the faculty recitals will be given by Miss McKay Monday evening, January 19th. The public is invited.

In spite of her illness during the holidays, Miss Hay was able to get in some work with Mrs. A. O. Anderson, the young theorist, who is creating such a stir in musical circles in Chicago. Miss Nicholson spent part of her vacation in New York where she attended recitals by Ysaye and Bloomfield-Zeissler and grand opera. She heard "Siegfried" with Gadski as Brunnhilda and "Nanon" with Farras in the title role and Caruso as Des Grieux.

Miss McKay spent her holidays in Chicago, where she took a special course in the Katherine Schuster School of Lyric Declamation. She gave her lecture on the "Definite Workings of the Vocal Machinery" before a number of professional singers and readers. Miss Schuster was so well pleased with Miss McKay's work that she has engaged her to give a summer course in the Schuster school. Much of Miss McKay's time was spent at the opera and symphony concerts. She had the pleasure of attending the production of Carmen by Clausen, Zepfelli and Miratore with her first voice teacher, Isabel Lowden, who is now Music Critic for the Chicago Daily News.

CENTENARY OF NOTED IRISH POET OBSERVED

Sir Aubrey De Vere's Memory Honored in Various Parts of Ireland.

Dublin, Jan. 10.—In literary circles throughout Ireland tribute was paid today to the life and work of Sir Aubrey De Vere, on the occasion of the centennial anniversary of the birth of the famous Irish poet. De Vere was born one hundred years ago today at Curragh Chase, near Limerick. His death occurred at the home place on January 21, 1902.

In a period of unrest and endless activity, De Vere was content with a life of simple harmony and the joy that his poetic genius brought to him. For nearly the entire portion of his eighty-eight years he remained at the family home, occupying the same room, and reading and writing in his father's library.

He was a poet by nature and by temperament. His thoughts were poems, and his dreams were poetic fancies. Southey, who knew him well, called him an "entire poet" and Cardinal Newman said that in every action of his mind he was a poet.

Through Tennyson De Vere met Mary Anderson, the famous American actress who became Mme. Navarro, and they exchanged letters for several years. They used to take long walks together on Hampstead Heath and talk about the people who had made it almost sacred ground.

The poet did not care much about outward form. In this connection it is recalled that he once drove with Mme. Navarro in Rotten Row, and while she was beautifully gowned and the carriage was perfectly appointed, he held over his head to shade his eyes, an umbrella like Mrs. Gamp's, and it had a broken rib that added to its disreputable look.

FARMERS ATTENTION

Geo. S. Gay, Jacksonville, Ill., wish to announce that they have arranged with the American Steel & Wire Company for a moving picture entertainment of great interest to the farmers. This is entitled "Through the Furnace to the Farm," and deals with the manufacture of steel, especially the nails, barbed wire and woven wire fence used on the farm.

There are 5,000 feet of film in five reels, and these are just a few of the scenes shown:

Mining with giant steam shovels.
Mammoth Clam-Shell buckets.
Huge Ore-carrying boats.
Blast Furnace in action.
Drawing off the Molten Pig Iron.
Bessemer and Open Hearth Processes.

A train load of white hot ingots.
Rolling out the plastic metal.
Cold wire drawing.
Galvanizing.
Weaving wire fence.
The proper way to build fence on the farm.

These have been pronounced the greatest industrial pictures of the age, and it is worth while for any farmer to see them. Admission is by ticket only. Any farmer may obtain free tickets for himself and family by calling on Geo. S. Gay, Jacksonville, Ill. Don't forget the time and the place, Jan. 16th, Friday, at Scott's Theatre at 1:30 p. m.

PUBLIC SALE.

Thursday, Jan. 15, at ten a. m., William Piernan will sell at the Dickerman farm a mile and a quarter south of Orleans, 17 horses and mules; 9 milk cows; five spring calves, wagons, plows, cultivators, rollers, harrows, an Advance threshing machine, self feeder and Sattley stacker, 1500 bushels of corn in crib and other things.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—A heavy calendar of business will confront the members of congress when they reassemble Monday after the Christmas recess. Among the most important items on the agenda are the Alaska railroad bill, the proposed constitutional amendment granting the right of suffrage to women, the LaFollette seamen's bill, the Adamson bill providing for the suspension for two years of that provision in the Panama canal act which will give to American coastwise vessels free tolls, and the proposed amendments to the Sherman anti-trust law. On the last named subject it is expected that President Wilson will send in a special message at an early date.

The third session of Canada's Twelfth parliament will be opened Thursday. The sessional program includes a Redistribution bill, the revision of the Shipping act, amendment to the Civil Service act, an amendment to the Insurance act, and a number of other measures. Considerable tariff discussion is forecast, and it is said the appeal of Sir Wilfred Laurier, the Opposition leader, for "free food" is likely to receive attention. What course the government intends to pursue with regard to the Naval Aid bill has not been disclosed.

The suit of the government, against the Elgin Board of Trade, charging violations of the Sherman anti-trust law, is scheduled to be taken up for trial during the week in the United States District court at Chicago.

At Kansas City Dr. B. Clarke Hyde, whose case has attracted national attention for several years, is to be placed on trial for the fourth time on a charge of having murdered Col. Thomas H. Swope, a millionaire philanthropist.

A meeting of the International Joint commission is to begin in Washington Tuesday. The commission will consider the application of the Michigan Northern Power company for authority to build a dam for power purposes at Sault Ste. Marie; also the application of the Greater Winnipeg water district to divert water from the Red River, west of the Lake of the Woods, for the purpose of a water supply for the city of Winnipeg.

Other events that will figure in the news for the week will be the meetings of the legislature of Newfoundland and the state legislatures in New Jersey and Virginia, the mayoralty election in Boston, and the consecration of Rev. Frederick B. Howden as Episcopal bishop of New Mexico.

Among the meetings and conventions of more or less general interest will be those of the Western Golf association at Chicago, the National League of Commission Merchants at Jacksonville, Fla., the National Wool Growers' association at Salt Lake City, the Bricklayers, Masons, and Plasterers' International Union at Houston, and a conference of Southern commissioners of agriculture at Fort Worth.

BIG LEGAL BATTLE PLANNED IN FEDERAL COURT.

United States Suit Against Alleged Butter Trust Is To Begin Monday.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 10.—The case of the United States against the Elgin Board of Trade, a government suit to dissolve on account of alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law, is scheduled to come up for trial next week before United States District Judge Landis. Prosecutors for the Department of Justice and the great corps of attorneys for the defense are planning one of the greatest legal battles ever waged in a Federal court.

The suit against the Elgin Board of Trade, popularly known as the Butter Trust, was filed by the government a year ago last month. At that time sweeping charges of conspiracy to fix arbitrarily the price of butter in the interest of big manufacturers and cold storage concerns and to the detriment of the farmer, other small producers, and the consuming public were made by Attorney General Wickham. Named as defendants were Elgin Board of Trade and the American Association of Creamery Butter Manufacturers, together with more than two score individuals resident in Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, Indiana and Ohio.

In its bill of complaint the government maintains that the price of butter fixed on the Elgin exchange has not been the result of open competition, based on the law of supply and demand. The price fixing committee of the board has been controlled, it is alleged, by large butter manufacturers known as centralizers and by cold storage concerns. This committee, it is further alleged, has acted arbitrarily and without any regard to actual values, and fixed prices wholly in the interest of the conspirators. The alleged combination and conspiracy is said to have been formed in Chicago "some five years ago."

The Elgin Board of Trade will bear the brunt of the attack by the government. Attorneys for the defendants have not disclosed whether they will be ready for trial when the cases are called.

BROUGHT LARGE LIQUOR SUPPLY INTO JACKSONVILLE

Joseph Revis Arrested By Police—men as He Alighted From Burlington Train.

Joseph Revis is learning that the way of transgressors is hard after trying to smuggle into the city a quantity of whiskey and beer. Joseph has the reputation of being an adept at smuggling and the police thought it would be well to watch for him or any one who might be inclined to forget that Jacksonville is dry territory. Saturday p. m. policemen Eads and Tuttle went down to the junction of the C. P. & St. L. with the Burlington where trains entering on the Burlington from the north stop and call up the city office for entering orders.

While they were waiting there for the arrival of the train on the Burlington a young man drove up in a rig and began hitching the horse and when he saw the officers he tried to make them think he had special business which was correct. When the train stopped Revis alighted and was duly taken in by the policemen who found in his possession in a suit case and basket three one gallon jugs of "Kentucky Tavern" whiskey, nine bottles of beer, two one quart bottles of "Clark's Pure Cream Rye" and other wet goods so they took the unwilling shipper to police headquarters where he strenuously insisted the jug whiskey was for himself, the beer for his mother and the bottles for a former city official.

He gave bond for $250 in Squire Dyer's court with J. W. Woods as security and was released.

Drawing off the Molten Pig Iron.
Bessemer and Open Hearth Processes.

A train load of white hot ingots. Rolling out the plastic metal. Cold wire drawing. Galvanizing. Weaving wire fence.

The proper way to build fence on the farm. These have been pronounced the greatest industrial pictures of the age, and it is worth while for any farmer to see them. Admission is by ticket only. Any farmer may obtain free tickets for himself and family by calling on Geo. S. Gay, Jacksonville. Don't forget the time and the place, Jan. 16th, Friday, at Scott's Theatre at 1:30 p. m.

This is the Season of the Year When Every Clothing House will be Bidding for Your Trade

Which are you going to be, all things, to say the least, being equal, the "tailor-to-order" or the "ready-made" man? You know our reputation for doing exactly as we agree. Now, here is what we propose to do:

We Will Give You $5.00 for Your Old Suit

Or we will give you five dollars for your old overcoat, or ten dollars for both. Nothing reserved. All goods go in at the recent sale prices and you gain the "five" extra. We don't raise prices so as to lower them again.

For as little as fifteen to twenty dollars you will be able to obtain a high grade, all wool, latest pattern, tailored to your measure, guaranteed suit or overcoat, that under ordinary circumstances would cost you nearly double. You no longer have to wear the more or less ill-fitting ready made clothes from a desire to economize. If you wear ready made garments from now on it will be solely because you want to.

We want you to give this proposition your most careful investigation. We guarantee to you that it is on the square, but we want to afford you every opportunity to prove that it is so. Our woolsens will be spread out before you in such a manner that you can see from the whole piece how they will look when made up. You can examine them in any manner you desire. We give you our positive guarantee that you will be delighted. We have sold to pleased patrons more than one hundred and twenty-five suits during the past four weeks. We are determined that more than ever the people of this community shall know us and our fair and square methods of dealing, and know that they can at all times wear tailored-to-measure clothing for the same price, and often less than they would pay for inferior clothes that were factory made for anybody.

Every garment made on our own premises. We employ a large force. Every dollar stays at home. Our guarantee of satisfaction is positive. No detail slighted

OVER THE ELECTRIC WIRE

The electric delivery wagon is in common use in most large cities.

Gloves made of silk "sized" with lead are used to protect the hands in X-ray work.

Electricity is extensively used in the city of Calcutta and other Oriental cities in the East.

Wireless telephoning is now successful up to 300 miles. Marconi says that the Atlantic will be spanned very soon.

Southern Italy is to have a thirteen million dollar water-power electric plant. Nearly 150,000 horse power will be developed.

It is claimed that fully 12,000,000 horse power can be developed from waterfalls in the National Forest reserve of this country.

Dayton, Ohio, has a new electric bulletin board where the important items are flashed in luminous letters. It can be read for a distance of four blocks.

It is estimated that there are 37,000 electric vehicles in use in this country of which 25,000 are pleasure cars. Chicago holds the city record with 2850 vehicles.

In putting new lighting conductors on St. Paul's Cathedral, London, a part of an old lightning rod installed by Benjamin Franklin 140 years ago was found.

The General Electric Company is building the largest mining hoist in the world for the Crown Mines of South Africa. The hoist motor will develop 4000 horse power.

Electricity plays no small part in the manufacture of hardware of all kinds. Were it not for the electrically driven high speed machinery, hardware would be considerably higher in price.

The ordinary flash light is a very expensive device when figured on a power consuming basis. Electricity for flash lights costs $11.00 a kilowatt. But then, the flash light can be used steadily for three hours for a few cents cost.

Many of the comforts and conveniences of the modern hotel would be impossible without electricity. Besides the electric service in laundry and kitchen and the extensive and elaborate lighting systems in the parlour rooms, electricity is also used for fans, annunciators, telephones, elevators, etc.

The advantage of turbine-electric propulsion for ships lies in the fact that the turbine engine is most efficient at high speeds where as the propeller must be driven at rather slow speed. Where the steam power is changed into electricity to drive the ship through electric motors the vessel can be started, stopped, reversed and sent ahead at any speed independent of the speed of the turbine. This is not possible with gears.

The Joy of Giving is Enhanced an Hundred Fold

When there is an absence of worry as to ways and means, and no personal or family privation in order to make the gifts you desire

That it is More Blessed to Give Than to Receive

Is a statement of divine inspiration that also is a promise, the truth of which will be vouched for by every thinking person. But many are self-deprived of the great privilege of bestowing gifts because thoughtlessly no previous provision has been made for it.

Join Our Christmas Savings Club Without Further Delay

And never again will you find yourself unprepared, and experiencing that feeling of hurt disappointment because of inability to carry out that good impulse that comes to you about Christmas time. Read about our plan if you do not know of it already. It is simple, and made so easy that it can work no hardship. Those who tried the plan last year are strong in their praise of it and quickly enrolled for 1914.

How Our Ideal Christmas Savings Club Plans Work Out for You

Five cents, Two cents or One cent will start you. In the first you will pay five cents the first week, ten cents the second week, fifteen cents the third week, and so on for fifty weeks, and two weeks before Christmas we will mail you a check for $63.75 with interest at three per cent.

In the second class you will pay two cents the first week, four the second, six the third, and so on, and just before Christmas we mail you a check for $25.50 with interest at 3 per cent. In the latter class you may pay one cent the first week, two cents the second, three cents the third, and so on, and just before Christmas you will receive our check for $12.75 with interest at three per cent added.

Or You May Reverse These Plans

Stop and consider how simple this manner of preparing for Christmas becomes. How effective and yet so gradual that it is not felt. Truly, when next Christmas rolls around and you receive your check, you will exclaim, as did others: "Why! It's just like finding that much money."

Don't Put It Off Another Day

We shall be glad to have you call and let us explain anything that is not quite clear to you, and about other plans for Christmas savings, in connection with this club, that we have not space for here.

FOREST NOTES.

A rancher has applied for the rental of 320 acres on the Pike national forest, Colorado, to be used in connection with other private land, for raising elk as a commercial venture.

The government has just sold 43,000 cords of cedar wood for shingles from the Washington national forest. The shingles manufactured from this wood, laid six inches to the weather, would cover 2 1-2 square miles of roof.

The navy department has asked the forest service to investigate guijo, a Philippine wood, for possible use in decking boats and ships. Longleaf pine, sugar maple, and beech are the domestic woods most used for decks.

The state university lands in Arizona are to be lumbered under a co-operative agreement between the government and the state land commission. Arizona is the first state in the southwest and one of few in the country to cut its timbered lands on forestry principles.

The annual meeting of the American Forestry Association will be held in Washington on January 13. A president, twenty-one vice presidents, a treasurer, an auditor and five directors are to be elected and plans made for an active campaign for forest conservation during 1914. The association has 8,000 members.

HISTORIC "STARVED ROCK"

Capt. Ballard, who has spent forty years on the Illinois river and is thoroughly acquainted with every spot and its history will give an illustrated travelogue at the Grand Opera House matinee and night, Friday, Jan. 16.

Starved Rock, beautiful, historical and romantic was once the home of Shabbona and thousands of Indians. Surrounded by a wealth of early history and Indian legend it was lately acquired by the State of Illinois for a State Park.

To this point LaSalle, Father Marquette, Tonty and other explorers. Here was enacted the famous Indian massacre which gave to the rock its name. Here occurred the hurried wedding and escape. You can see and hear of these beautiful and interesting places without effort and in a short space of time; whereas, if you were to visit the Rock it would require many days to reach them all, and as some spots are almost inaccessible, great physical effort would be required.

At the request of the Deep Waterway Commission, Capt. Ballard accompanied them to Memphis, Tenn., where he presented his lecture and views before the president and members of the commission. Starved Rock was purchased by the State of Illinois for its people, and as it is your park you should acquaint yourself with its history and its beauties. The school children should have an opportunity to attend this entertainment. It will interest and instruct them. Admission, 25c, 35c and 50c.

Carlin and Young, respectively supreme chancellor and past supreme chancellor of the Knights of Pythias. M. F. Dunlap is chairman of the committee of arrangements for the funeral representing the two local Pythian lodges. The chancellor commanders of the lodges will name bearers to serve at the railway station and at the house. FEWER MEDICAL SCHOOLS

There are 14 fewer medical schools in the United States than there were a year ago; 1,200 fewer persons studied medicine in 1913 than in 1912; and there was a decrease of 500 in the number of medical graduates, according to figures compiled at the United States Bureau of Education.

The reduction in the number of medical schools is part of a steady movement for improved medical education that has been going on for the past eight or nine years. The American Medical Association, the various State medical societies, and other agencies, have aroused public opinion to such an extent that 79 medical colleges have either merged with other institutions or ceased to exist, and the standard of medical training has been raised considerably. Of the 101 medical schools now listed at the Bureau, 53 are requiring one or more years of college work as a prerequisite to entering upon the study of medicine. State examining boards in North Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota, Colorado, Indiana, South Dakota, and Kentucky have introduced regulations. In most cases to be made effective within a year or two, providing that every applicant for a license to practice medicine shall have studied two years in college, after a four years' high school course, before even beginning medical training. A similar requirement covering one year of college work will soon be enforced by the State boards of Connecticut, Kansas, Utah, Vermont, Pennsylvania, and California.

An interesting feature of the statistics is the part played by women. Although the total number of medical students has decreased. In 1912 there were 18,451 medical students of whom 712 were women; in 1913 there were 17,288 students, of whom 835 were women. Only 79 women graduated this year, however, as compared with 142 in 1912.

DIGGING BIG WELL AT WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Workmen have been busy for the last ten days digging a big well on the Woman's college premises, directly back of Music Hall. The well is 8 foot in diameter in the clear, and after going down to the second layer of hard pan a ledge was made and a wall built up, the space back of the wall being filled with concrete. This will keep out all surface water so that if the college authorities ever want to use the water for drinking purpose it will come from below the hard pan. The well is now some 32 feet deep and it is expected to go deeper, although considerable water has been found. The primary object in digging the well is to supply suitable water for laundry purposes.

ADDITIONAL LIGHT ON THE LINCOLN LINEAGE.

To every true American it must be a matter of profound regret that the names of the surnames of President Lincoln were written before much light had been secured on his family history. Notwithstanding the fact that Nicholas and Mary and Miss Anna Turner have found in the official records in Virginia and Kentucky positive proof of the respectability of both his paternal and his maternal ancestors the old stories of how origin may still be read and are well treated by many intelligent people. We can excuse those earlier biographers, but what must be said of those people who, like Morse in the American Salesman Series, have distorted the later facts at their disposal to confirm an old belief. In Morse's Lincoln, Vol. 1, page 8, we read: "On June 10, 1803, Thomas Lincoln gave bond in the just and full sum of fifty pounds to marry Nancy Hanks, and two days later, June 12, he did so in Washington county, Kentucky. She was then twenty-three years old. February 12, 1807, their daughter Sarah was born. The reader naturally asks why Thomas Lincoln gave bond to marry Nancy Hanks, and to most readers only one answer suggests itself. But the fact is that while this statement in regard to the bond is in one sense literally true, it is nevertheless a vile slander. In 1784 a law was enacted in Virginia, of which colony Kentucky was then a part, requiring that the clerk, before issuing a marriage license, shall take a bond, with good security for the sum of fifty pounds current money, to our sovereign lord the king and his heirs and successors with condition that there is no lawful cause to obstruct the marriage for which the license shall be desired." This law was still in force in Kentucky in 1806, and the bond was given by Thomas Lincoln was exacted by the clerk in compliance with this law. It was the bond that every applicant for a marriage license was required to give, and it involved no obligation whatever to marry; its purpose was simply to guard against illegal marriages. Many thousands of these "marriage bonds" are still preserved throughout Virginia and Kentucky and hundreds can be found even in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. This bond given by Thomas Lincoln, facsimiles of which are given in some of the more recent biographies, is interesting as a reminder of an obsolete and forgotten custom and incidentally proves that the story of his wife's teaching him to write his name is pure fiction, for he signed his name to this bond and signed it fairly well. Other official records show that the stories of his extreme poverty, and utter shiftlessness rest on no more secure foundation.

Some interesting Lincoln records disappeared during Civil War. When in June 1864, General Hunter appeared in the upper Shenandoah valley the county officers became alarmed for their official positions and to render these more secure they attempted to remove the more important county records from the court house to a place out of the reach of the federal troops. But the wagon train of which these loads of records formed a part was captured by General Hunter's troops and burned. Among the records thus destroyed was the "will books" containing the will of John Lincoln, Thomas Lincoln's grandfather. The same are destroyed the "deed books" in which were recorded at least three Lincoln deeds—that of Abraham Lincoln, father of Thomas and grandfather of the President, for the 400 acres of Linville Creek, sold about 1789 when he moved to Kentucky; deed of Thomas Lincoln, son of John, conveying another 200 acres to his brother Jacob who served as lieutenant at Yorktown; and deed of Rebekah Lincoln, widow of John Lincoln, conveying to Jacob Lincoln the remaining 200 of the 600 bought by John Lincoln in 1768. These deeds, referred to in the records at Staunton, were evidence that the Lincolns were neither rich nor poor.

The books and papers left in the court house were not molested by Hunter's men and, needless to say, are still preserved in the clerk's office. Among these are the old "minute books" in which the proceedings of the county court were recorded, the "bond books" and "land books," and hundreds of "marriage bonds" and thousands of documents pertaining to litigation. "Minute Book No. 1" is an interesting old relic containing a record of the court proceedings from the organization of the county April 27, 1778 till some time in the eighties. It is really two books bound in one cover though the leaves of second are several inches wider than those of the first. Evidently it was intended that the records should be indexed as the pages are not numbered. The faded ink on paper yellow with age, the careless penmanship, the predominance of routine matters in the record, the many arbitrary abbreviations employed, the happy-go-lucky spelling and the lack of an index all combine to make the book a very inconvenient one for reference, yet a single item amply repaid me for the two or three hours spent in a cursory glance through its pages. Under date of Aug. 24, 1778 I found this entry: "Ordered that John Fitzwater take the list of tithables in Capt. Beggs' Co. and in Capt. Lincoln's Co." This combination of names made it appear probable that the 2 companies were in neighboring districts or "settlements" and suggested one of the five sons of John Lincoln of the Linville creek settlement as the Capt. Lincoln mentioned. This suggestion was the occasion of a quest that has proven very interesting and not altogether barren of results. My first guess was that the Capt. Lincoln mentioned was Jacob Lincoln who was afterward in active service as lieutenant, but the old "Minute Book" showed that Jacob did not qualify as lieutenant of militia till March 1781. However, at Staunton the records are properly indexed and well preserved, and through the painstaking labors of Judge Lyman Chaikley have largely been made accessible to all his recently published "Chronicles of the Scotch-Irish Settlement of Virginia." What is called a "minute book" at Harrisonburg is called an "order book" at Staunton and in Order Book No. 16, page 222 Judge Chaikley finds that the lists of tithables were ordered taken in a number of companies among which are those of Capt. Thomas Beggs and Capt. Abraham Lincoln, the names occurring together as in the Harrisonburg minute. The "Chronicles" furnished abundant evidence that the Capt. Abraham Lincoln who served in Augusta county in 1777 and in Rockingham county in 1778 was the son of John Lincoln of Linville creek, the Abraham known to have been the grandfather of President Lincoln. This was probably known to the President's later biographers but I fail to find any mention of the fact.

There was for a time and there may still be, some doubt as to the maiden name of Capt. Lincoln's wife, Morse, Miss Tarbell and Nicolay and Hay agree in stating that it was Shipley. Miss Tarbell finds that Joseph Hanks married Nancy Shipley of Lunenburg county, Va., daughter of Robert Shipley and that Abraham Lincoln married her sister, Mary Shipley. This would make Thomas Lincoln and his wife cousins. Morse and Nicolay and Hay state that Abraham Lincoln went to North Carolina and there married Mary Shipley. But the Virginia statutes required that the marriage license be obtained in the county in which the prospective bride resided, and the license was obtained in Augusta county. June 29, 1770 as shown by the Staunton records, Nicolay and Hay die a great-grandson of Abraham Lincoln as their authority for their statement, but add the following: "Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy under President Lincoln, who gave much intelligent effort to genealogical researches, was convinced that the Abraham Lincoln who married Hannah Winters, daughter of Ann (Boone) Winters, was the grand father of the President." From this statement it would appear that a record had been found of the marriage of an Abraham Lincoln to a Miss Winters but that there was no positive proof that this Abraham was the grandfather of the president. As Secretary Welles died in 1878 his investigations were made when fewer records were accessible than now, and for that reason his conclusions are entitled to less credit than they should otherwise receive, yet the records at Harrisonburg and Staunton seem to favor his findings rather than those of later biographers. The North Carolina story can easily be harmonized with that of the Lunenburg county marriage as this county is near the North Carolina border and geographical lines were not sharply drawn on the frontier, but the Augusta marriage license record seems to be in conflict with both as Lunenburg county was not a part of Augusta in 1770. The fact that Abraham Lincoln was a resident of Augusta county in 1773, 1774 and 1777, and of Rockingham in 1778 tends still further to discredit the story of the North Carolina residence. However, in support of Miss Tarbell's version, it should be said that the records show that a Robert Shipley received a payment from the estate of Mathias Shaddon of Catawba creek sometime between 1765 and 1773 and possibly he was a resident of Augusta in 1770. On the other hand, it is certain that the Boones and the Lincolns had been closely associated for many years and the records show that Josiah Boone was living on Linville creek in 1770. Furthermore the name Winters appears in the records as early as 1754 and as late as 1789. These facts add to the credibility of the Boone-Winters descent. Abraham was a favorite name in the Lincoln family, possible there were two Abrahams in the south at this time.

From the above statements it appears that two families may each lay claim to the honor of numbering the Great Emancipator among their members. Both families are highly respectable and the American people will gladly concede the claim of either when it shall be established beyond peradventure, but it is desirable that the question be authoritatively settled. Our Scotch-Irish citizens may be excused for hoping that the Boone-Winters claim may yet be substantiated. They long ago appropriated Daniel Boone (Fiske's Historical Writings, Vol. V, page 461.) and if his sister was the mother of Mrs. Abraham Lincoln of Linville Creek then, notwithstanding the Lincoln family is English, according to the laws of lineage in such cases made and provided, President Lincoln was Scotch-Irish.

LACK OF FRESH AIR

Causes Rindown Condition. How to Keep Strong.

Statistics prove that the death rate is very much greater in the winter months than in summer, and that the lack of fresh air is largely responsible for this condition.

If the system becomes rindown, blood thin and watery, circulation poor, no appetite, don't dose with drugs, but take our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol, not a patent medicine, as everything in it is named on every package and if it does not give you a hearty appetite, enrich the blood and create strength we will return your money; that shows our faith in Vinol.

A case has just come to our attention from Knoxville, Tenn. Miss Carrie King says: "For three years I was all run-down, weak, had no appetite and after all that time I am glad to say Vinol has brought back my health and strength."

AWARDS MADE IN MORGAN COUNTY BOYS CORN CLUB FOR THE YEAR JUST CLOSED

First Prize of $100 Goes to Fred M. Spires—Clayton Anderson Takes Second Place and Fred S. Burchett Third—Gold Badges for Five—Seventy Two Bushels per Acre the Best Record—Year Unfavorable for Work.

The Chamber of Commerce of Jacksonville through its Department of Rural Affairs Saturday announced the award of prizes in the 1913 Morgan County Boys' Corn Club. The announcement was made by Frank J. Heintz, chairman of the department Saturday at the meeting of the Morgan county teachers association. The awards were as follows:

The first prize, $100.00 in gold—Fred Marion Spires, Nortonville.

The second prize, $50.00 in gold—Clayton Anderson, Franklin.

The third prize, $25.00 in gold—Fred Sidney Burchett, Franklin.

The Department of Rural Affairs calls attention to the fact that the corn club was not announced until rather late, that not as many boys entered as had been hoped for, that climatic conditions were most unfavorable for corn growing, such as to discourage the oldest and most experienced farmers, that on this account several of the boys failed to get their land broken that some of the boys met unusual and unexpected disaster on their acres and that five boys filed reports and entered specimen ears of corn.

Boys Made Good Records. None of the boys complied fully in every respect with all of the conditions of the contest but the three boys who were awarded prizes practically did so. The two boys who were not awarded prizes did not sufficiently comply with the conditions through no fault of their own. Each of the five boys the prize winners, John D. Anderson and Van D. Seymour are awarded the solid gold emblem pin of a Demonstrator of the Boys' Corn Club.

The Department of Rural Affairs is proud of these five boys who have kept in the game notwithstanding the discouragements of the corn season. The yields obtained are a great credit to the boys and had the year been favorable to corn growing they would have had yields to equal the best yields in the northern states. It is from such boys as these that farmers of the near future must come. The "kneecaps" of the prize winners appear elsewhere. They are fine mainly farmers and took the part of the future of agriculture in Morgan county, the future of our state and nation is safe in the hands of such as these.

State Showing Below Average. The advance report of U. S. Department of Agriculture on the Boys' Corn clubs for 1913 show smaller yields than usual in the Illinois clubs. The prize yields in several counties have fallen below the first prize yield in Morgan county and the highest yield thus far reported is 316 bushels from the north part of the state where there was plenty of rain during the corn season. On the other hand, the report shows that Walker Lee Dunson of Alexander City, Ala., has broken the world's record for an acre of corn by raising 232.7 bushels on his club acre. It must be borne in mind that a prolific variety of corn is grown in the south which yields greater crops than the northern grown varieties.

The Department of Rural Affairs believes that the Boys' Corn Club has stirred up much interest in better farming and farm life among the boys of our county. It already realizes that the United States Department of Agriculture is right when it attempts to interest the adult farmers through the boys. The club of this year, small as it was and operating under the worst climatic conditions that we have had for many years, has attracted the attention of both boy and grown-up farmers.

The Boys' Stories. The boys' stories "How I made my crop of corn" related elsewhere on this page show that the boys were interested, that they have learned some things of value and that this work has induced them to give attention to the little things about them that go toward making the big successes, that they have used their eyes and their heads as every farmer must do if he is to solve his own problem of maintaining fertility, reaping larger profits and getting out of country life all it should afford him for, no matter how much attention is given to the farm, farmers' success is to be found in papers and farm lectures, every farm has its own problems which can only be solved by the eyes and brains of the farmer in the light of the best practical and scientific information.

The reports of the prize winners of course, prove nothing as to corn growing but it is interesting to note that the winner of the first prize was the only contestant who plowed his land in the autumn, that his land in 1912 was in clover, that he plowed the deepest planted, the earliest, cultivated the ofttest, shallowest and longest and that his cost of production per bushel was the smallest and his profit the greatest.

Twelve boys entered the contest, but a number of them through circumstance beyond their control were unable to finish. The boys were: Clayton Anderson, John Anderson, Fred S. Burchett, J. Stewart Holmes, Viron E. Ransom and Fred M. Spires, Franklin; Van D. Seymour, Murrayville; S. Dawson Darley, Fred Leach and Paul B. Scott, Jacksonville; Harold Perdue and Gail Ransom, Franklin.

The following epitome gives the main facts and figures in the reports of the prize winners.

In the reports the cost of production in order to be uniform was figured as follows:

Rent of the acre, $5.00.
Labor, per hour, 10 cents.
Time each horse, per hour, 5 cents.

Seed corn at cost.
No charge was made for use of implements, wagons or machinery.
None of the prize winners used barn-yard or commercial fertilizers.

In awarding the prizes the value of the corn was figured at sixty cents per bushel. No account was taken of the seed value of any of the corn nor of the value of the fodder.

Boys' Corn Club for 1914.

The department of rural affairs of the Chamber of Commerce of Jacksonville announces that through the generosity of many citizens it will offer prizes similar to those of 1913 for the best acre of corn raised by boys of Morgan county under conditions about the same as those of last year. Complete information as to prizes and conditions will be announced in a few days.

This corn club is operated in connection with the United States department of agriculture which furnishes bulletins, cultural directions, etc., to members of the club. Enrollment cards may be obtained of any member of the department of rural affairs and it is suggested that the boys who intend to enroll do so as early as possible so as to have the benefit of the publications of the department of agriculture.

HOW THE BOYS MADE THEIR CORN CROPS

Fred Marion Spires lives in Nortonville precinct, six miles southeast of Franklin. His father, Frances M. Spires is one of the well known family of that name and his mother is a member of the equally prominent Seymour family. Fred's ancestors on both sides came to what is now Nortonville about the year of the "Deep Snow." The farm on which the family lives has been cultivated for about seventy-five years. Fred was born Nov. 8, 1899. During the school year he attends Providence school taught by Miss Myrtle Schell. When not in school, he actively assists in the work of the farm. He has grown several crops of corn and this fall planted a crop of wheat. Fred is one of the boys who will probably stay on the farm. He believes in the future of agriculture and is demonstrating that energy and study pays on the farm as elsewhere.

(By Fred M. Spires.)

One morning last spring as I was reading "The Jacksonville Courier," I read of the prize which you offered to the Boy's Corn Club. Being much interested in agriculture, I at once made up my mind to inquire about the club. So the next time I went to Jacksonville I went to see Mr. Story, the superintendent of Morgan County Farmers' Institute. He informed Mr. Heintz, chairman of department of rural affairs, Chamber of Commerce, Jacksonville, Ill., of my desire to become a club member. Mr. Heintz sent me an enrollment card, which I signed and returned to him.

The object of the Boy's Corn club is to instruct and direct the boys of our county in the possibilities of farming as a profitable and dignified profession, to encourage more intensive farming by using best known methods of soil building, selection of seeds, seed testing, cultivation of corn, etc. To give the boys instructions as to the best kind of work; to adapt boys to agricultural environments and make them capable of self expression within these environments. To teach the value of intellectual guidance, careful observation, cultural comparison investigation and need of broader education teach the boys proper adaptation of plant life to local climate and soil conditions.

When the corn is planted in the spring, the warm earth, moisture and vitality will cause the kernel to swell. In about three to five days the sprout will burst out of the kernel at the large end. It will start upward to the sunlight and air no matter how the kernel is lying in the ground. In about one or two days the sprout starts upward, the roots start to sprout. As the sprout reaches the surface it opens at the point and at first just two leaves will unfold. Then gradually one after another the leaves will unfold, until the tassel appears at the height of five to eight feet. Then in a short time the silks will appear. The tassel will pollinize the silks, and soon an ear of corn is formed. It requires from 50 to 140 days of growth to mature the corn. I did not test my seed as it was furnished by the Morgan County Farmers' Institute. It came from a reliable seed house.

The soil was a black loam and clover sod. I plowed it in the autumn of 1912, about eight to nine inches deep, so as to loosen it and enable the moisture to enter in great quantities. In the spring as soon as the weather would permit, I began disking it once a week until time to plant. I then harrowed it twice with a spike tooth harrow, to get the ground in good condition. It was planted three grains to the hill 3-6 each way May 13, 1913. It was planted deep as the season was very dry.

The season being very dry and the soil in good condition, nothing was done after planting until corn was about three inches high. I then began to cultivate to remove the weeds preserve a fine tilth and aerate the soil. I cultivated it with a six shovels cultivator once a week for six weeks, thus cultivating it six times. There did not seem to be any insects that bothered the corn until about the time it tasseled. The chinch bugs struck it, when they began to fly, and damaged it some. I could not do anything to check their progress.

If corn is to be fed to live stock a good way to harvest it is to put it in a silo, feed in shock or shred it. If it is to be stored, it should not be harvested until the corn becomes solid on the cob, and dry enough to shell some when thrown into wagon or crib. I think the only profitable and practical way is to husk by hand. The best method of storing the corn during the winter is in a silo crib with a good roof, never in a tight crib or without cover. The best method to select seed corn is to take a sack and go to the field, and select the corn from well matured stalks, and corn that is well filled and of a standard size. I did not select my seed corn as it was furnished me by Morgan County Farmers' Institute.

On October 18, 1913, we went as a school to the Farmers' Institute at Franklin, Ill., making a general display. I won the blue ribbon on the white corn.

Some of the uses for corn are feeding purposes which is very profitable and practical. The stalks and fodder is good food for roughness in winter, and also to plow under manure or humus. We should never burn them.

My acre of corn yielded 72 bushels. There were 60 bu. of common corn and 12 bu. of seed corn. They were all used at home. The value of my corn was $66. The expense of producing my acre of corn was $11.60. The profit was $54.40.

My corn club work has been of great interest to me this season, as I have been greatly benefited by the bulletins sent me. It has caused me to take a greater interest in planting, cultivation and selection of seed corn. My acre of corn was the profitable one on the farm this year.

One improvement I would make in my work, if I had it to do over would be to cultivate it longer, trying to keep a better mulch surface to hold the moisture better.

Clayton Anderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Anderson and was born near Alexander, October 24, 1897. The family resided upon and farmed the old Mayfield farm about a mile west of Franklin. Clayton has helped farm for several years. During the school year he attends the Franklin high school and expects to graduate there. His sole ambition is to make a good farmer and to help make Morgan County famous for her agriculture.

(By Clayton Anderson.)

The plot that I chose for my acre of corn was part of a blue grass pasture so I thought it profitable to plow it as early as possible.

I plowed it March the 20th and left the land lay as plowed until April 18th and then I dragged it the same way it was plowed. This was to level the ground and also to preserve the moisture and put the ground in shape for future disking.

On April 21st and 22nd the ground was double disked the same way. It was plowed making the land in fine condition. On May the 19th the ground was disked straight and cross way lapping the disk one half each time.

On the 20th of May the ground was harrowed. This finished the preparation of the seed bed and I planted the corn the same day selecting my seed of the Boone County White variety, drilling in rows 3 feet 4 inches apart, dropping the grains every 14 to 12 in.

On the 25th of May the corn came up being a good stand. On the 9th or June 1 I plowed my corn the first time, the corn was 5 or 6 in. high, using a 6 shovel cultivator and plowing about 5 inches deep covering all small weeds and getting as close to the corn as possible. The next cultivation occurred on June the 20th, the corn being 12 or 14 inches high. I plowed the corn the last time on July 8th, the corn making a remarkable growth up to this time.

On the 1st of July I noticed the first indication of an ear, on August 1, the first pollen had fallen and the ears had silks on them at this time. Seeing at this time that the growth of the corn was being affected by the extreme dry weather on examining my daily weather record I found that we had but one rain and a few small showers during this period of 71 days. At this time the chinch bugs began to show up in the corn for the first time. On September 21, the first killing frost occurred and also another on the 25th.

From this data we could conclude that the rainfall had not been sufficient during the growing season and also there was too many hot days for a favorable growth of corn before the corn was husked. I had the land measured by two neighbors. The acre was 4 rods wide and 40 rods long. On Nov. the 3rd and 4th when the corn was dry I husked and weighed my corn. The weighed corn showed a weight 4,380. Under the rules of Morgan County Corn Club, I had to shell and weigh 100 bu. My 100 bu. shelled 85 bu. The total of corn 4,380 multiplied by 85 and divided by 56 gave a yield of 66 bushels and 27 pounds. This yield was rather small because of the extreme drought and high temperatures that prevailed in this locality.

The entire cost of raising my acre of corn including planting, husking etc., was $10.99. This corn was sold for 60c per bushel gave a profit on the one acre $28.99. My time at 10 cents per hour and each horse at 5 cents per hour when employed in the field.

Fred Sidney Burchett was born Feb. 21, 1899 in Sangamon county. When he was a small child his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Burchett, removed to Morgan county and now reside east of Franklin. Fred has attended the College Grove school taught by Miss Ella May Scott. He assists his father in the work of the farm. He loves the farm and is earnestly trying to acquire the knowledge and best practice of agriculture.

Fred Sidney Burchett.

This spring was very dry and after the first of April, we had no rain to speak of till the last of June.

I plowed very hard and I was compelled to use four horses on a sulky plow in order to plow it about seven inches deep.

About ten days after plowing the ground I harrowed it twice and then rolled it, which made it in fair condition for planting.

On the twenty-third of May I planted the corn but it did not come up very good, some of the corn being in dry dirt and did not sprout till after the big rain we had the last of June. This of course made it look very poor and uneven.

I harrowed it a short time after it began to come up and about the middle of June cultivated it, letting the weeds go in deep.

It looked very common after this plowing, but the rain came a few days later it revived it greatly and what had not already come up did so. Some of the hills were several inches high and some just coming through the ground, which made it look far from being what it would if there had been sufficient moisture to have brought it all up at the same time.

Several days after the rain, I plowed it again and then laid it off by about the middle of July. And after the last plowing it had no rain only light sprinkles till the middle or last of August, which was too late to do any great benefit to the corn.

I husked my corn the twenty-second day of November and it was dry and in good shape, but the ears were much smaller than they usually are of a good year. I feel sure if we had had plenty of rain, it would easily have yielded one hundred bushels.

FRENCH CHAMPION STILL A YOUTH.

Paris, Jan. 10.—George Carpenter, the heavyweight champion pugilist of Europe and the idol of the French sporting public, is to be given a big "blow out" in Paris next Monday on the occasion of his twentieth birthday anniversary. In view of his remarkable achievements in the ring it is difficult to realize that Carpenter is still in his teens. It is not so difficult to understand, however, when it is remembered that he began his career as a fighter at the age of twelve years. At that time he weighed but 75 pounds and was known as the "Little Demon." At the age of 13 he was proclaimed the amateur champion of France.

One year later he won the featherweight title and in the same year he added the lightweight championship to his other honors. In 1912 he took the European middleweight championship from Jim Sullivan and then he began cleaning up the heavyweights. His latest victory was his decisive win over Bombardier Wells, the big Britisher. In this and other of his recent fights Carpenter showed a complete change of style from that which he displayed in the early part of his career. Formerly it was perfectly apparent to every spectator that he fought for the love of fighting. He smiled from going to go and never sought to avoid punishment if by taking his medicine he could give a larger dose of the same stuff to his opponent. But now it is evident that he regards the game as a business. The old smile is missing and he is cool and calculating in the ring. What he has lost in youthful enthusiasm he has gained in a better knowledge of the science of the game.

WEDDING UNITS. NOTED FAMILIES. New York, Jan. 10.—Two of the wealthiest and best known families in New York were united at the wedding of Miss Margaret Louise Schieffelin and Frederick Henry Osborn, which took place this afternoon in Madison Avenue Presbyterian church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Jay Schieffelin and a great-granddaughter of William H. Vanderbilt. Mr. Osborn is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Church Osborn and a great-grandson of William Earl Dodge, the millionaire philanthropist.

MR. HEINTZ SEES POSSIBILITIES IN INCREASING CORN YIELDS

Addition of One Bushel Per Acre Would Make Big Total for County—Profitable Agriculture and Best Rural Schools Are Co-existent.

At the regular meeting of the Morgan County Teachers Association Saturday afternoon Frank J. Heintz, chairman of the department of rural affairs of the Chamber of Commerce announced the awards, in the Boys' Corn Club contest. In making the announcement Mr. Heintz spoke briefly as follows.

Roger W. Babson, America's foremost statistician, whose statistical reports are consulted by the captains of industry and leading financiers of both America and Europe left his home about a year ago on a vacation trip feeling apprehensive concerning the future of his country.

After traveling about ten thousand miles in and about Europe, he came home having concluded that this is a pretty good country after all.

The reasons for his conclusion are:

"We have a great area in the temperate zone, the zone that has and does and will rule the destinies of this earth.

We have a wonderfully fertile soil and great natural resources, coal, iron, copper, gold, wide forests and fertile fields.

Isolated as we are, we are not involved in international strife. Some of our men are exempt from compulsory military service and we are not loaded down with taxes to support a great army and navy.

We have a laboring people unequalled on the face of the earth.

Our country is peopled with some of the best people from every country. The Pilgrim Fathers not only came in 1620 but have been coming ever since.

While our municipal governments are too often failures and our state governments though progressive are experimental, our National government taken as a whole is the best in the world. No other people enjoy the freedom we do.

Not only are our lands, our people and our government the best in the world but our railroads, our public utility properties and our great industrial plants are unequalled.

Compared with other nations our government is the cleanest, our corporations the most humane and our labor the best off in the world.

Our farmers and school teachers are a great national asset. The farm is the basis of all material things and education is the basis of all else.

Farming must be encouraged so as to be kept attractive and we need more farmers. Teaching must be better paid for as we need stronger teachers.

On the farms and in the school houses depends the future of America and we should do everything possible to raise the efficiency of both.

History proves conclusively that the continued prosperity of a nation, people or community is dependent upon the permanency of its agriculture for it is the source of all wealth. Important are manufactures, commerce and the activities centered in the cities they are all founded on agriculture.

The relations between education and productivity are well understood. The wealth producing power of a people is measured by the school advantages they have enjoyed. Productivity is proportional to education and moral training. It is not climate, soil, minerals, not even the race, much as these count, but education above all else that determines the wealth producing power of a people.

Morgan is one of the richest counties in the great corn belt. The fertility of our lands and the intelligence of our people should and can afford a much more profitable agriculture, better rural schools, better roads and a social life in the countryside which will take the loneliness out of country life.

The most profitable agriculture and the best rural schools must be hand in hand. Neither will or can come alone. Each is dependent on the other. To have the most profitable agriculture the child of the countryside must have greater educational advantages. Rural children are entitled to good school buildings, good work shops equipped to do good work and to the inspirational leadership of well trained teachers in sympathy with all that is richest and best in country life and to a higher scientific education without leaving their homes. These things should be as accessible along the country road as along the city boulevard.

To have the best rural schools the profits of agriculture must be increased so as to afford taxes sufficient to allow better houses, better equipment and better salaries for teachers and if possible a pension system for rural teachers so that the faithful, hard working country school teacher will have something to look forward to but the poorhouse. The country teachers are as much entitled to the benefits of a pension system as are the teachers in the cities.

We cannot have the most profitable agriculture or the best rural schools without better roads.

Better agriculture, better rural schools, better roads—each hinges upon the other and all of us are vitally interested in them. We of the towns whose very existence depends upon the countryside are jointly interested with the people of the rural districts who are justly entitled to these things so as to enjoy fully the profits and pleasures of country life.

Corn is king in Morgan county. In 1909, the year of the last United States census there were 129,348 acres of corn in this country. They yielded 589,885 bushels worth at fifty cents a bushel just about three million dollars.

An increase in the average yield of one bushel per acre estimated at fifty cents per bushel means an increased annual farm receipt of $64,000.00. We want that $64,000 annually. An increase of two bushels per acre each year means an increase in the total yield of $128,000 each year and that increased yield is not unreasonable to hope for. We want that $128,000 every year and we want you teachers to help us get it. It would go a long way towards securing better rural schools and better roads.

Several years ago the United States department of agriculture after vainly attempting to interest the adult farmers of the Southland in better cotton and corn culture started its work through the boys' corn and cotton clubs. The fathers soon got interested in the work of their sons. So much was accomplished in the South that the work of the department has been spread through the corn belt. Last year a boy in Alabama broke the world's record for an acre of corn with a yield of 232.7 bushels. The record so far reported for our state in 1913 is 116 bushels.

The Chamber of Commerce of Jacksonville has faith in the farmer boys of Morgan county. It believes our teachers and farmers are the equals of those elsewhere. Last spring, in conjunction with the Federal Department of Agriculture, it promoted a Boys' Corn Club. It was started late in the season. Twelve boys enrolled as members. Some of the boys were prevented from planting by the drought, others met unexpected and unusual disaster. Five finished the work.

We are proud of these boys. They are game and have proved their mettle. To each of them, the prize winners, John D. Anderson and Van D. Seymour is awarded the solid gold emblem pin of a Demonstrator of the Boys' Corn Club.

Three prizes have been awarded. Two of the boys are disqualified through no fault of their own. The first prize, five double eagles is awarded Fred Marion Spires, who raised 72 bushels on his acre and whose contest score is 91.

The second prize, five eagles, is awarded Clayton Anderson with a yield of 66 27-56 bushels and a contest score of 85.2.

The third prize, five half eagles, is awarded Fred Sidney Burchett, with a yield of 58 42-100 bushels and a contest score of 77.51.

The Department of Rural Affairs of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce announces a Boys' Corn club for 1914, under similar conditions to that of last year. A detailed announcement will be made soon. And we request your assistance in securing a large enrollment in this club.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Allan of Biggsport entertained a number of relatives Saturday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fay of Jacksonville, who were recently married. At the hour of seven a delicious supper was served, which was greatly enjoyed, and the remainder of the evening was spent in a delightful social manner.

Among those present, aside from Mr. Allan's family, were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McCullough and children, Alma and William; Mr. and Mrs. G. Howard McCullough; William McCullough and children Irene and Allan; Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hornbeck and children, Cecil, Russell and Mary; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vortman and children, Mabel and Freida; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Gibbs. From Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fay, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fay and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Stull.

Today a family dinner will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Gibbs, at which the Jacksonville people will be guests.

Misses Alma and Carrie Mackness entertained sixteen of their friends Saturday evening at their home on West North street in honor of Misses Elizabeth and Edna Heineke, who are visiting them from Springfield. Progressive rum was played and prizes were awarded Miss Laura Jackson and Miss Laura Wiswell. Guest prizes went to the Misses Heineke.

The boys and girls of the Sunday school class of Litchberry Baptist church, taught by Mrs. W. E. Murry were entertained by their teacher yesterday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. Games were played and palatable refreshments were served. About eighteen of the members of the class were present.

PASSAVANT NOTES.

At the last meeting of the hospital aid society considerable sewing was done and business of importance transacted. The Josephine society of State street church was voted a member of the aid society.

Jesse Wilson of Chandlerville accompanied his wife home from the hospital yesterday where she has been a patient for several weeks.

Mrs. W. E. S. Gibson and son, Alvin of Roodhouse were callers at the hospital yesterday.

Anderson Stacy who received an injury to his foot is resting comfortably.

BOYS' CORN CLUB.

The report of the awards in the Boys' Corn Club contest in another part of this paper will be found interesting reading matter. The management of the many details connected with the club has been in the hands of F. J. Heintz, chairman of the department of rural affairs of the Chamber of Commerce and he has done a vast amount of painstaking work. On account of the unfavorable year not a large number of boys took part in the contest. But an excellent beginning was made and undoubtedly a large number of boys will enroll for 1914. The greater the interest taken in the club the better will be the farming conditions in Morgan county.

"CASCARETS" ALWAYS

STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

If Costive, Headachy, Bilious, Spasmodic, Sour, Breath Bad—Clean Your Liver and Bowels.

Get a 10-cent box now.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.—Adv.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF

HAIR STOPS FALLING

Girls! Try This! Makes Hair Thick Glossy, Fluffy, Beautiful—No More Itching Scalp.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Adv.

MYSTERY OF SIGHT

Most Wonderful and Inexplicable of All Our Senses.

LIMITS OF THE HUMAN VISION.

There Are Colors All About Us That the Eye Cannot See, as We Cannot Distinguish Beyond the Extremes of the Spectrum Red and Violet.

No two persons see precisely alike any more than any two persons hear precisely the same. The differences in these perceptions are due to the wide disparities not only in the organs of vision and hearing, but also to the differences in mental makeup of the individuals.

There are more unsolved problems as to sight than any other sense. It is the most wonderful and at the same time the most inexplicable sense that we possess. Every school child is taught that we see because rays of light reach the retina of the eye after passing through the transparent cornea, that curved surface which is in direct contact with the external air, the aqueous or watery humor, and the crystalline and vitreous humors.

The eye is thus made up of three separate lenses, through which the light passes before reaching the retina. When observed from outside it is plain that all the images appear to be reversed in the eye. We see everything upside down, but in some way this reversal is corrected, so that things appear to us as they should, though this simple point has not yet been explained by the most advanced science.

But the eye sees not only images and light; it also distinguishes color. And here is one of the greatest problems with which the eye has to deal. The white light of a ray of sunshine is divided by a prism into all of the colors from red to violet, and it is one of the greatest triumphs of modern optics to have proved that what we call color is nothing but the speed with which some parts of the ray of sunshine strike upon the retina.

The eye can perceive waves striking it as low as red and as high as violet, but there are many rays both above and below the red and violet, the extremes of the spectrum, as they are called. The human eye cannot perceive these because the lengths of the waves or the frequency with which they strike upon the retina are too great or too small for the human organ. Yet they are most important, exercising a great influence upon human beings.

The ultra violet rays are known now by their chemical action and are termed chemical rays, while the infra red rays are heat rays and are known as such. So it is evident that there is much that the eye does not or cannot see, even with all the mechanical aids which have been provided in telescope, microscope, etc.

What really carries the message of vision to the brain center of vision, which is at the back of the head, is the optic nerve, and the fact that if you have a pain in the back of the head it is probably due to eye strain is admitted by all physicians. If you feel that strain and headache located at the occiput the first thing to do is to consult an oculist and get the glasses which will correct the error of vision.

Your eyes may be wrong in any number of ways. Either there may be a defect in some one of the lenses or the nerve may have become weakened or the muscles of accommodation by which the eye is focused may be wrong. The last is probably the commonest of troubles and may be easily corrected if promptly taken in hand by an expert.

Cross eyes are only defects of muscular control, and the latest researches point to the necessity for correcting this defect as promptly as possible. Many parents make the fatal mistake of not calling in the specialist even when they notice that an infant "crosses the eyes." But it is in the early stages that this trouble may be best corrected; otherwise the muscles become fixed in their error and the defect is permanent.

It is never too early to put glasses upon the child who requires them. It is often too late to save the child from permanent injury of the most beautiful, most expressive and most useful organ.—New York World.

Marks of Social Distinction.

"The Hugginses," said Sherlock Holmes, "are very popular with the wealthy classes."

"How do you know?" I queried, confident of a brilliant answer.

"Because there are so many grease spots on the pavement in front of their house."

"I don't see the point," said I.

"You auto," said Sherlock.—Newark News.

SCOTT'S THEATRE MONDAY AN EXTRAORDINARY SPECIAL.

The Heart of Kathleen.

Beautiful Irish settings, vivid Irish types, and intensely dramatic plot combine to make "The Heart of Kathleen" a film that will be long remembered. In points—essential points too—the story is improbable contrary to Irish character. Yet, such exceptions may be found as the case of Kathleen, and the character of Dennis is altogether typical.

Dennis Connor returns to his native village of Killadyke to stir up the people to resist English misrule. There he falls in love with Kathleen, the daughter of a fisherman, and they are engaged. In a terrible storm at sea, Kathleen's father is lost, and a young English Lord washed up from a wreck, two events which change the girl's entire future. Proud, full of life, determined to be "free" at any cost, she resents Dennis' smothering remarks about the English stranger, whom she happens to find charming and even irresistible. In a fit of temper, she breaks her engagement—the Englishman proves faithless, he deserts her—and she drowns herself in the sea.

Dennis Connor—fired with both personal and patriotic hatred for the entire nation of "bloody sassanach"—flings himself into the Irish Rebellion, an impassioned leader. The incidents move rapidly—with terrible realism reproducing one of the countless bloody outbreaks, adding protest upon protest, up through five centuries of Irish history. The closing scene shows the hero a refugee, on shipboard, bound for America.

FRANKLIN CITIZENS TO REDUCE COST OF LIVING

Franklin people are trying to solve the problem of the high cost of living. An organization has been formed called the Franklin Consumers' company and it is owned and financed by Franklin citizens and those living in the neighborhood. The company is capitalized at $10,000.

with 500 shares at $20 per share. Only five shares can be purchased by a single individual. A $1,000 worth of the stock has already been sold and twice that amount promised. As soon as the stock is raised a board of directors will be chosen. They expect to rent a building in which to carry dry goods, footwear, groceries and give the people the advantage of cost prices. Attorney T. F. Smith went to Franklin yesterday and discussed the plans from a legal standpoint. At a meeting held in Olinger's hall, J. O. Ralston, Clarence Read and G. Leonard Hills form the committee named to get the license and to sell the stock.

Just change places with us for a short time and you will know why we have forgotten about profits

The weather man has been kind to you in one way, while he has been very unkind to us. He has made it possible for you to save money, while making it necessary for us to take the loss.

Berating the weather man will do us no good. We must take our medicine; we must get money out of the merchandise that was bought to serve you in cold weather—there will be cold weather—but unfortunately for us, we cannot wait for it. We have too many winter goods to sell before spring shipments arrive.

Prices must tell the rest of the story, and we intend to make them work overtime. Two dollars will do the work of three (for you) from now until our stocks are in the cash drawer.

METHODISTS TO RAISE TEN MILLION DOLLARS FOR EDUCATION

Inaugurate Campaign Which Will Take Four Years To Consummate —To Have Meeting of Presidents of All Colleges of U. S.—Dr. Harker Reads Paper and Presides.

Dr. J. R. Harker returned Saturday from Hackettstown, New Jersey where he has been attending the Methodist Educational Association convention. The membership included the presidents and principals of all the colleges and secondary schools of the M. E. church. There are 45 colleges, 48 academies and secondary schools and 7 theological schools, and in all fifty-five schools were represented, members being present from Vermont, Alabama, Texas, Oregon and California.

Dr. Harker, who is president of the association made an address on the subject: "Multiplying Educational Demands and Increasing Opportunities." The address was well received and it was voted to have it printed and distributed. There was also a fine and inspiring address by Commissioner P. P. Claxton of the Department of Education of the United States.

The association voted to begin at once a great educational program for the church to raise not less than $10,000,000 in four years, and also voted to divide the entire country into twelve sections and to appoint a committee to carefully study the educational institutions in each section with a view to determine whether each institution is properly located, wisely managed and doing the kind of work for which it is best adapted. These committees will also take up the question as to whether some of the institutions might not wisely be consolidated.

A committee was appointed to confer with other church boards of education and to make arrangements for a meeting in the not distant future of the president of all the denomination colleges of the country, in order to secure co-operation and unity of action.

The next meeting will probably be held in San Francisco at the time of the Panama exposition. Hackettstown Centenary college, an academy for women is located Hackettstown and Miss Olive L. Austin former dean of the Woman's college is dean there.

ANOTHER WOLF KILLED.

Charles Watson is certainly getting a reputation as the champion wolf slayer. As noted in the Journal, five of these pestiferous animals have been foraging in the southeast part of the county, doing all sorts of damage. Two of them Mr. Watson has shot within the past few months and yesterday morning he had the great pleasure of ending the life of a third. He set a big steel trap in the hedge in a place by which the wolves were likely to pass and found one of them fast in it and ended the creature's life with a gun. He brought it to the city yesterday and it was seen by many curious persons. He collected the county bounty of five dollars and also another five from his father, Isaac Watson who had offered the reward in the hope of ridding the country side of the wolves which had caused him some losses among his hogs.

Mr. Watson believes the wolves came in from Missouri two years ago when the Mississippi was frozen over. He well remembers a winter twenty years ago when such a thing happened.
